Attlee Against New Russ Approach

McCarthy Expands Red-Front Accusations

More Names Given To Senate Probers

Stephen Brunauer, Ex-Navy Man, Reportedly Admitted Communist, Solon Says; Haldore Hanson, Also Named, Quickly Defended By State Department

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) told senators today he has heard reports that a former navy scientist familiar with the country's "topmost defense secrets" is an admitted communist. He proposed an investigation.

McCarthy named the man as Stephen Brunauer, a former navy commander.

He tossed this out while ticking off to a senate foreign relations committee the names of state department employes he says have displayed communist sympathies.

The navy had no immediate official comment on McCarthy's assertions, but a spokesman said Brunauer is now employed, as a civilian, in the explosives research division of the navy bureau of ordnance. During the war, Brunauer was a commissioned officer and held the rank of commander when he was released from service in 1946.

Former Teacher Named.

McCarthy has charged the state department is honeycombed with reds and symphathizers. State department officials have denied that. The senate group is giving McCarthy an opportunity to produce what proof he has.

McCarthy named:

Haldore Hanson, 37, who heads the department's technical cooperation projects staff. Hanson is a native of Virginia, Minn., and a former teacher in China. He joined the state department in 1942.

Mrs. Esther Caukin Brunauer, a $9,706 job holder on the department's United Nations relations staff. She is the wife of the navy scientist whom McCarthy asked be investigated.

Owen J. Lattimore, state department consultant and now director of the Walter Hines Page school of international relations, Johns Hopkins university.

Loyalty Investigated.

The state department said that both Hanson and Dr. Brunauer—she holds a Ph. D. from Stanford—had been thoroughly investigated and the department is satisfied they are loyal Americans.

"This man's record as a procommunist goes back many years," McCarthy said of Lattimore.

In Baltimore, Mrs. Lattimore said her husband "has always been anti-communist and has never been connected with the state department or been on its payroll."

Lattimore himself is in Afghanistan presently. Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, president of Johns Hopkins, said, "I am sure Prof. Lattimore will be quick to deal with the charges of his return to this country."

McCarthy called Lattimore not only a state department consultant, "but one of the principal architects of our Far Eastern policy."

Before today's session began, McCarthy had told the committee that he would need only "four or five hours" to detail his charges that there are at least 81 people in the state department with a record of communist sympathies or leanings.

But after naming Lattimore he said he wanted to call a halt for the day. McCarthy explained that he wanted to join in senate debate this afternoon on housing legislation.

Chairman Tydings (M-Md) reluctantly agreed.

At the state department, officals quickly replied that Hanson, 37, has been "thoroughly investigated."

Michael McDermott, press relations offiver, said :"The department is satisfied that he (Hanson) is loyal to the United States."

All Vote 'Stalin'

100 Per Cent Cast Ballots For Premier In Russian Election

MOSCOW — (INS) — Premier Stalin was reported today to have received 100 per cent of his constituency's votes in Russia's parliamentary election.

Balloting in the Soviet election ended last midnight and many constituencies completed their voting some 15 hours before the midnight closinb time when tabulation of ballots began.

Foreign observers in Moscow expressed belief that Stalin now may open a new peace offensive. Speculation that the Soviet leader might be willing to meet President Truman for "peace talks" in Europe was based on the preelection views expressed by Deputy Premier Georgi Malenkov. Malenkov said Russia is ready to participate in an "honest world peace parley."

Welcome to Come to U. S.

(President Truman has said repeatedly that he would welcome Stali if he came to Washington but has no intention of traveling outside the United States to meet the Soviet leader.

(Observers in London said that such high-level talks would include British participation along the line suggested in Winston Churchill's speeches during Britain recent national election.)

Early reports indicated that over 99 per cent of the electorate cast ballots and in Stalin's and in Vice Premier Molotov's constitencies were a 100 per cent mark. In the Leningrad constituency and in Moscow the record was 99.9 per cent.

The Associated Press said:

Foreigners in Moscow had expected the premier to speak Saturdya night at the Bolshoi theater, as he had done on previous election ewes. However, an opera was presented at the theater this year and the premier did not appear.

High Court To Rule On Loyalty Plan

. . . Accepts One Appeal

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Supreme court today agreed to rule on the legality of the government's loyalty program.

The tribunal accepted an appeal from the joint anti-fascist refugee committee.

The committee asked the high court to declare the program invalid and to strike its name from a "subversive" list compiled by the attorney general.

The group appealed to the Supreme court after the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia rejected its complaints. The Supreme court will hear arguments early in the spring.

The tribunal, however, deferred action on a similar appeal filed by the National Council of America-Soviet Friendship, Inc. The council likewise asked that its name be stricken from the "subversive" list.

Dr. Rausten Named To Traffic Board

Dr. David S. Rauston, 4723 Prescott, was appointed to the city traffic commission Monday.

The city council named Dr. Rausten to the position after Jose Bradley, College View banker, declined the offer.

Dr. Rausten's term will expire April 14, 1951.

Geese Not Unusual This Time Of Year

Paul Gilbert, secretary of the state game commission, said that the large flock of geese seen Monday at Capitol Beach was "not at all unusual."

Gilbert said they had reports of flights of geese at all the state park lakes across the state. "They're on their way north now, as usual for this time of year," he said.

Observers reported the geese at Capitol Beach literally covered the lake, settling down part of the time and flying around in the vicinity of the lake part of the time.

Housing Measures Broached

Builder Suggests Co-operative Plan

There were these new developments on the housing scene Monday:

1. A Lincoln builder broached to the city council a plan for a low-cost co-operative housing project,

2. A Huskerville resident urged the council to set machinery in motion to permit individual construction of homes at the airbase.

3. City Councilwoman Fern Hubbard Orme returned to the city housing authority her request for an investigation of the possibility of having a low-cost permanent housing project at the air base.

$4,000 to $6,000 Homes.

This is the order of the developments:

H. A. Moseman, 2824 North Forty-ninth, told the council he is working on a co-operative housing project. He said the project would be along lines undertaken in other cities—that is, individuals binding together to solve their housing problems collectively.

Moseman told the council he thinks houses can be built in this manner for between $4,500 and $6,000. By individuals doing their own work, he estimated they could save 30 per cent of total costs—that is the approximate percentage of labor costs.

Reasons Outlined.

Moseman said he is consulting an attorney on the procedure that should be followed and thinks he may be able to have some construction under way within two months. How many would be built would depend on how many persons wished to join the co-operative plan, Moseman told The Star.

Charles W. Fahnestock, a Huskerville resident who has a wood manufacturing plant at the airbase, made the second proposal.

He said he thinks a large number of persons would welcome the opportunity to build their own homes at the airbase. As reasons why persons should like to build homes at the base, Fahnestock gave:

1. Privacy and play space for children.
2. "Friendly atmosphere."
3. Proximity to school and shopping facilities.
4. A housing project would enhance the appearance of the airport.

Fahnestock said he thinks low-income families can afford to build their own homes. He also said that at the airbase they would have a change to raise chickens or engage in small-scale farming.

He suggested the council meet with the city housing authority and representatives of Huskerville to decide whether a housing project is feasible there.

Last Friday the housing authority wrote the city council that a permanent housing project at the airbase is "undesirable."

More Study Requested

Today Mrs. Orme returned that letter to the housing authority and asked that the proposal for a permanent project there be given more study. The council endorsed the return request.

Mrs. Orme's proposal is to have the housing authority investigate all possibilities for low-cost "self-help" housing projects, both in the city and at the airbase.

Other than the housing authority's objections to a permanent housing project at the airbase, these two objections evolved:

1. City Councilman Rees Wilkinson pointed out that if the city sold any land there, it would have to be sold at public auction. Therefore, the land would probably be more expensive than an individual can afford to pay as a site for a home.

2. In reply to a question put to him by The Star regarding the desirability of having a permanent housing project at the base, City Engineer D. L. Erickson admitted that it would "pose a fundamental problem." He would not elaborate.

Erickson did say he would give his recommendation to the council "if it requested." He preferred not to state that position to The Star, but it is believed persons connected with airport development would not be in favor of a permanent housing project there.

The council took no action on the first two proposals, but suggested they should like to be of assistance if possible.

H. Magee, Jr. Is Killed In Car Accident

Former Lincolnite Loses Life On Coast

Harold Magee, jr., 33, a former Lincoln resident, was killed in an automobile accident near San Jose, Calif., Saturday night, according to word received here by relatives.

Mr. Magee was alone in his new car and apparently fell asleep while driving along the highway, it is reported. No further details had been learned Monday.

Harold Magee, jr.

The accident victim was a native of Lincoln, a graduate of Jackson high school and attended the University of Nebraska. He had worked at Magee's store before he entered military service, leaving Lincoln in the summer of 1940. At the time of his death he was manager of the sporting goods department in a store at San Jose.

He is survived by his wife, parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Magee, of San Jose; a sister, Mrs. Jack Horton, Palo Alto, Calif.; grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Magee, Lincoln; and two uncles, Elmer and Woodrow Magee, also of Lincoln.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at San Jose.

Kansas State Students Protest Play-Off Spot

. . . To Jayhawks

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—A group of 80 students Monday demonstrated in front of The Kansas City Star building on the selection of Kansas over Kansas State to represent the Big Seven in the fifth district playoff against Bradley.

Sports Editor Clyde McBride of The Star was one of the three-man committee which selected Kansas Saturday night.

They rang cowbells and shouted, "We want McBride's hide." They carried placards. One said, "K. U.'es most valuable player—McBride." "We were robbed," "We want a playoff," and "We want a square deal," others read.

The group marched to the editorial room of The Star and massed around the sports desk. They found the department empty.. A sign on the desk read, "Sports department, out to lunch."

Winter's Grasp On State Slips; To Get Warmer

Winter is slowly losing its grip on Nebraska—as far as temperatures are concerned. Warmer weather and fair skies are predicted for the state, accompanied by light to moderate west to southwest winds, Tuesday.

Temperatures will range up to 26 degrees today and near 38 degrees Tuesday, the weather bureau said. Low readings tonight, however, are to be close to a chilly 10 above zero. The Sunday high-low range in Lincoln was 19-8.

North Platte recorded the top precipitation in the state over the last 24 hours, in the form of snow amounting to .11 of an inch. Lincoln received .03, bringing the total this month to .12 of an inch. Other points reporting precipitation were: Hayes Center .02, Scottsbluff .04 and Sidney .07.

High temperature in the state Sunday was 22 at Scottsbluff, which also recorded the state's low reading of minus 15.

Woman Is Wounded By Rifle Shot

Mysterious Accident Being Investigated

An Ashland woman, "mysteriously" wounded by a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle at her home Saturday night was reported "improved" Monday afternoon at Bryan Memorial hospital.

The woman, Mrs. Charles Williams, about 30, was found lying across her bed, fully clothed, according to investigating officers from the Saunders county sheriff's office. She was found by her husband.

The husband, who is being held on an open charge in the Saunders county jail at Wahoo, agreed to undergo a lie detector test ,in Lincoln Monday afternoon, according to Saunders County Attorney Myrl Edstrom.

Williams, who summoned officers to the home Saturday night, said he did not know how his wife had been wounded. He denied hearing any shot and told officers he found his wife after she had called to him.

Sheriff Clarence Hagstrom, who is directing the investigation in cooperation with Edstrom, Monday termed the incident "mysterious."

Messed With Gun.

Hagstrom quoted Mrs. Williams as saying she had been "messing with a gun."

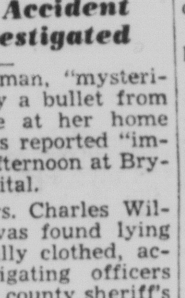
Investigating officers said they were told the gun that wounded Mrs. Williams had been lying across the bed but had been moved by the time they arrived.

The sheriff said two of the Williams' four children were away from home at the time the incident occurred, but that two little girls, aged two and three were home at the time.

Secretary Of State Frank Marsh Files For Ninth Term

Secretary of State Frank Marsh filed Monday for re-election to his ninth term as secretary of state. He is a republican.

He was first elected in 1927, serving until 1933 when he was defeated by Harry Swanson, who served two terms. Marsh was again elected in 1941 and has served continuously since that time.



FRANK MARSH

On 13 Boards.

Marsh could see no evil superstition in filing on the 13th of the month, pointing out that he now is required by law to serve on 13 state boards and that the latter M in his name is the 13th letter of the alphabet.

During war years, Marsh was active as president of the American War Dads in Lincoln.

Decline In Freight Use Pointed Out

On Albion Branch Line; Spirited Hearing Expected

ALBION, Neb.—(AP)—Railroad attorneys Monday began laying the foundation of their case for abandonment of the Chicago and North Western's so-called Albion branch line railroad.

The evidence was presented at an interstate commerce commission hearing which opened Monday with J. K. Lyle presiding.

The 114-mile branch line runs between Scribner and Oakdale.

Monday morning railroad attorneys reviewed the decline in freight shipments over the line from 1922 through 1949 and listed the truck lines now serving the area. Car loadings of various commodities also were listed as the railroad sought to show the line no longer is profitable. Under ICC rules it must be prepared to support a claim of loss before it can file for abandonment.

$287,751 Loss.

During the hearing, D. K. Van Ingen, assistant auditor of capital expenditures of the railway, will point out a net loss of $287,751 incurred by North Western in the operation of the branch line between the period of 1944-1949.

Total revenue of the Scribner-Oakdale line during the five year period amounted to $2,193,656 with total cost of operation $2,481,407, the company's figures show.

Peterson To Attend.

This hearing, expected to be one of the most spirited of several pending, will be attended by Gov. Val Peterson. Gov. Peterson has announced he is opposed to abandonment.

Because the line is a link in interstate commerce the ICC is conducting the hearing, but the state railway commission also is participating.

Towns along the line organized several weeks ago to fight the abandonment proposal, and the League of Municipalities also joined the fight.

'Retrenchment' Program.

C. E. Beals, executive secretary of the league declared several weeks ago that "if the North Western wins at Albion, they have 39 other cases ready to file in Nebraska and Iowa." He declared the railroads which built thousands of miles of line across Nebraska in the 80's and 90's, now are "pioneering" again in Nebraska with a retrenchment program.

Among those attending the opening session of the hearing were attorneys R. C. Johnson of Newman Grove and Ray Medlin of Albion, representing objectors to the abandonment; R. R. Perry, Lincoln, representative of the League of Nebraska Municipalities; Assistant Attorney General Bert Overcash of Lincoln and Robert Van Pelt, also of Lincoln.

Russia Still Unwilling To Co-operate In Move To Outlaw Atom Bombs

Matter Now Before United Nations, Commons Told

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee ruled out once more today any new approach to the Soviet Union for outlawing the atomic and hydrogen bombs.

"I do not think a new approach would get over the difficulty, which is the unwillingness of Russia to co-operate," Attlee told the house of commons.

Attlee's remark was prompted by this question from laborite Norman D. Dodds:

"Will the prime minister take the initiative in calling a conference for the purpose of endeavoring to find ways and means of outlawing the hydrogen bomb and all atomic weapons in view of the desire of the people that he should do so?"

Initiative Taken In 1945.

Attlee replied that "the initiative has already been taken as long ago as 1945. We have been pressing this matter continuously and it is now before the United Nations."

The suggestion of a new top level approach to Joseph Stalin was made by conservative leader Winston Churchill during the recent election campaign. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin waved it away as a "stunt' to get votes.

Russia May Try For A New 'Spheres Of Influence' Deal

NEW YORK — (AP) — The New York Times reported today that United States officials believe the Soviet Union now is making a new effort to arrange a "spheres of influence" deal with this country.

A Washington dispatch by James Reston said:

"Recent events in the communist world suggest to experts in official quarters here (in Washington) that the Soviet Union is trying to do two things:

"1. Minimize or eliminate western influence in all communist satellite states.

"2. Arrange a two-world settlement with the United States under which the western nations would adopt a hands-off policy throughout the whole communist world, including China and Yugoslavia, and do most of their business with the Soviet satellites through Moscow."

It is noted in Washington, the story said, that "there has been some relaxation on travel for foreign diplomats in the Soviet Union of late, and United States reporters are now able to say more and say it quicker than in some months."

Dr. Bracy Will Give Red Cross Kick-Off Speech

The Red Cross campaign rally for all workers will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the ballroom of the Cornhusker hotel. Chancellor Carl C. Bracy of Nebraska Wesleyan university will deliver an address.

Robert A. Dobson, chairman of the drive, Monday said, "For six weeks now we have been recruiting 1,700 workers and have been building up an efficient soliciting organization to raise Lincoln's and Lancaster county's quota of $59,676 that will only require one report luncheon on March 20.

"At tonight's meeting the workers will get their final instructions and materials to start soliciting Tuesday morning. The workers will have one week to complete their task and submit their reports next Monday. It has been a satisfactory experience to have so many workers accept their assignments so readily."

Daily Prayer

By REV. JOHN F. WICHELT.
(Minister, First Evangelical United Brethren Church)

Our Father, our hearts turn to you these days to know and to feel your presence with us. We are disturbed, we are troubled, we are concerned about the things that are happening in our world If within our hearts and minds there are those things that keep us from the truth and from you, forgive us. Instill within our hearts anew the peace of the Christ, help us to know you as He knew you. In knowing, we might have peace in our troubled hearts and we need not be afraid. Help us to shoulder the cross and be good followers of Him in our troubled world. Through these days as we walk with Him, and come to Easter morning—grant to each of us, the victory that shall overcome the world. We ask it, in Jesus name, Amen.

'Quickie' Tax Cut Rejected

Ways, Means Group Beats Back GOP Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The house ways and means committee rejected today a new republican effort to ram through a "quickie" bill slashing excise taxes immediately by about $1,000,000,000.

The rigid party line vote was 15 to 10.

The democrats, however, gave some ground while trying to head off a veto if excise cutting goes beyond the limits set by president Truman.

Outline Goal

They pressed through the committee, on a similar party vote, a resolution saying the committee will:

1. Approve excise slashes, perhaps far beyond the $655,000,000 the president has requested. Some members privately are estimating the excise cut will be around $1,000,000,000.

2. Try to replace the lost revenue "by closing loopholes in existing tax laws, by strict enforcement against tax evaders, and, if necessary, such other tax changes as may be deemed feasible."

The democratic-sponsored resolution made no mention whatever that any attempt will be made to raise $1,000,000,000 beyond the amount necessary to offset losses from excise cuts.

No Major Increase.

Any idea of a net tax increase, which Mr. Truman requested, apparently has been abandoned.

Mr. Truman has said he will veto any measure which cuts federal taxes on such items as jewelry, luggage and transportation tickets, unless it also provides for new tax income to make up the loss to the government.

Truman's Yacht Is In Rough Seas

ABOARD DESTROYER WILLIAM C. LAWE —(INS)— The yacht Williamsburg, with President Truman aboard, headed into slightly rough weather today off Cape Hatteras on its four-day cruise to Key West, Fla.

Whether Mr. Truman will need his seasickness pills is problematical. But the forecast is three to six-foot southerly swells with cloudy skies and light showers.

Radar aids were used to guide the presidential craft through a danse fog which enveloped the lower Potomac and foghorns kept a raucous vigil along the route. Despite intermittent rain squalls, Chesapeake bay was as smooth as a millpond.

In Gay Spirits.

The destroyer rendezvoused with the Williamsburg off Point Smith in the lower Potomac at 6:30 last night and fell in 1,000 yards astern.

Mr. Truman was in gay spirits as he boarded the yacht at the naval gun factory in Washington Sunday morning.

Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, will join the chief executive soon at Key West.

Kefauver Sees Lack Of Vision

Senate Is Urged To Over-ride Opposition To Federal Union Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP)—'Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) today accused the state department of a "shocking and alarming lack of vision" for its operation to a proposed union of north Atlantic nations.

"If we drift into another war," Kefauver said, "it will be because those responsible for keeping the peace lacked vision; because they could not see the danger when the cloud was small; because measures were not taken to remove the cloud while there was still time."

Kefauver urged the senate to approve a resolution calling on this country to summon a convention of Atlantic pact democracies for the purpose of discussing a federal union. He made clear that he thinks congress should ignore the state department's advice on the matter.

Fumbling Charged.

"After all, we are close to the people," Kefauver declared. "Such is not the case with the personnel of the department of state."

He accused the department of having fumbled the waging of the cold war, commenting that "we merely hold our own in Europe, while we are losing much in Asia."

Kefauver's speech was prompted by the testimony of Deputy Undersecretary of State Dean Rusk and Assistant Secretary John D. Hickerson before a senate foreign relations subcommittee.

They opposed the Atlantic union resolution sponsored by the Tennessee lawmaker and 19 other senators, on the ground that it poses a number of questions which must be settled first.

Communist Gains Seen In Schools

. . . By Agent Of FBI

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The house un-American activites committ was told today that a communist youth organization has made headway recently among college and hogh school students.

With Matthew Cvetic, an FBI undercover agent, on the stand, documents were introduced showing what counsel Frank C. Travenner, jr., called "a substantial increase."

One document found in a wrecked car in Pittsburgh reported that the Labor Youth league, described by Cvetic as completely controlled by communists, had a membership of 3,660 as of Dec. 5, 1949. Another document, undated, reported a membership of 5,879, with most of the gain among college and high school students. Tavenner said the second document probably was for about mid-February.

Cvetic also told the committee that the affairs of the Civil Rights congress in western Pennsylvania are run by communists.

Pope Pius Observes 11th Anniversary

. . . With Special Mass

VATICAN CITY — (INS) — Pope Pius XII, spiritual head of the world's 400,000,000 Catholics, observed the 11th anniversary of his coronation today with a prayer for physical strength and Divine guidance in his struggle against materialistic atheism.

The pontiff's prayers were voiced quiety as he sat resplendent in his papal robes to the right of Saint Peter's main altar. Benedict Cardinal Aloisi-Masella celebrated a special high mass of unusual solemnity to seal the pope's 11th year of reign and open, with unlimited hopes, the twelfth.

Saint Peter's Basilica was jammed to capacity. The cardinal red, bishop purple and the multicolored tones of the various theological students' denominations formed an eye-catching cornice in a field of black—the formal lay color of all church ceremonies.

Campaign workers not in the picture include Mrs. James Heriot, Mrs. Lillian Kusy, Mrs. John Bentley, Mrs. George Kaufman, Mrs. Hugh Mason and Mrs. William Carveth.

Conferences Set For Parents Of Beginning Pupils

Children who are five years of age on or before Oct. 15, 1950 will be eligible for admission to Lincoln public schools next year, Dr. Walter N. Foster, director of health education and health services of the schools, said Monday.

Conferences have been planned for the parents and children who are eligible for kindergarten next year. The schedule of the conferences, to be held in elementary schools, includes:

March 14—a. m. & p. m.—Huskerville.
March 16—a. m.& p. m.—Capitol.
March 21—a. m. & p. m.—Prescott.
March 23—a. m. & p. m.—Hartley.
March 24—a. m. & p. m.—Elliott.
March 28—a. m.—Holmes.
March 29—a. m.—Belmont.
March 29—p. m.—Hayward.
March 30—a. m. & p. m.—Huntington.
April 4—a. m.—Havelock.
April 4—p. m.—Norwood Park.
April 5—a. m.—Bancroft.
April 11—p. m.—Hawthorne.
April 13—a. m.—Riley.
April 18—a. m.—Bethany.
April 19—a. m.—Saratoga.
April 20—a. m.—College View.
April 20—p. m.—Willard.
April 21—a. m. & p. m.—Park.
April 25—a. m. & p. m.—Randolph.
April 28—p. m.—Sheridan.
May 2—a. m.—Clinton.

Principals and teachers with the assistance of P. T. A. members are compiling lists of eligible pupils for next year. Parents who have children who will be eligible to begin school next year are urged to contact the elementary school in their vicinity if they have not already done so.

The pre-school conferences will serve as a general orientation for pupils and parents. Some of the items included for discussion during the conferences include the following: correction of remedial physical and dental defects, immunization, the importance of a physical examination, safe ways to and from school, school regulations and other factors important to good school adjustment.

Parents are requested to submit names of orthopedically handicapped children who are younger than the eligible school entrance age if it is believed that physical therapy might be beneficial for them. All inquiries should be directed to the principals of the schools which children expect to attend.

State Methodist Conference Land Meeting Topic

Land owned by the institutions of the Nebraska Methodist conference came up for discussion at the annual Town and Country commission meeting at the Y.M.C.A. Monday.

A preliminary report on land holdings by the church was made by F. C. Friederick, of York. Ray F. Magnuson, commission secretary, told the group in his report, "The time has come when aggressive Christian action must be taken in this field. We believe that the land policies and actual administration of land owned by the various institutions must be handled co-operatively under a well-qualified land manager."

Albert J. Ebers, commission chairman, presided during the morning meeting. Also giving a report was Rev. John Mikkelsen, Maywood.

During the afternoon session at Grace Methodist church, the commission was to hear plans for the annual conference, a final budget report and a speech by Bishop Dana Dawson, Topeka, Kas.

Inventor Of Japanese War Device Ends Life

TOKYO —(AP)— Dr. Toshiro Otsuki, inventor of paper balloons the Japanese floated across the ocean to the United States and Canada with incendiary bombs during the war, was listed as a suicide today by the newspaper Mainichi.

The newspaper said Otsuki and a girl fellow worker in a factory committed suicide in a forest 100 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Mountain Lions Are Spotted By William Ekblad

If there's anything worse than a mountain lion it's two mountain lions. At least that's what William Ekblad thinks. He came upon a pair of the big cats recently while driving through a piece of Arizona forest land.

There were steep banks on either side of the narrow road which was not large enough to accommodate the Ekblad car and the cats. After a short, but uncomfortable wait, the lions jumped on top of a high embankment and disappeared.

Ekblad says the next time he drives over the road he'll go armed. Arizona offers a sizable bounty for killing the cats which are a menace to grazing cattle.

Ekblad, associated with the Federal Roads administration in Washington, D. C. is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ekblad, 720 North Twenty-fourth. At present his headquarters are at Payson, Ariz.

Mrs. Sarah Dunston, Lincoln Resident Since 1901, Dies

Mrs. Sarah J. Dunston, 2748 Q, died Monday morning at a local hospital.

Born in Kosioska county, Ind., Mrs. Dunston came to Lincoln in 1901. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Tessie Emde, Almeda, Calif., and Miss Bennita L. Dunston, Lincoln; a brother, Stace Barnett, Amelia; three sisters, Mrs. Annie Harwood, Brunswick, Mrs. Eva Sparrow, also of Brunswick, and Mrs. Bertha Parsley, Elkland, Mo., and five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Gubitchev Making Plans To Leave

NEW YORK — (AP) — Convicted spy Valentin A. Gubitchev said today he will return to Russia March 20 aboard the Gydnia-America liner Batory.

The Soviet engineer was given a choice between leaving the country or going to prison for 15 years when Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan sentenced him last Thursday.

Judith Coplon, former justice department analyst convicted with Gubitchev of plotting to spy for the Russians, drew a straight 15-year sentence in addition to a previously imposed term of 40 months to 10 years for a Washington spy charge.

Man Sentenced For Car Theft

Joseph L. Myers, 36, former employe of a local hotel, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary Monday by District Judge J. H. Broady.

Myers pleaded guilty to stealing a car March 2. He and a companion were returned here Sunday from Atlantic, Ia., where each had served 10 days on a drunk charge.

The car stolen by Myers was owned by Walt Ammon, 242 South Twenty-ninth street. At the time it was stolen, Ammon told police he had left the car for a few minutes on a downtown street, with its motor running. It was found the next day in a ditch near Atlantic.

County Attorney Frederick H. Wagener said Myers' companion, against whom a car theft charge also has been filed, was still being questioned. Myers admitted in court that he was the person who stole the car.

Nurse Recruitment Campaign Planned

OMAHA—(AP)—A move to attract more young women to the nursing profession will get under way with a luncheon at Lincoln March 22, the state association announced Monday.

The recruitment committee of the association has invited leaders of several civic and professional organizations to the luncheon to hear of the needs of the profession. They will be asked to carry the problem back to groups in their home towns.

"Providing adequate nursing care is a problem too large for any single profession," said Mrs. Charlotte Schultz of Omaha, chairman of the nurse association's recruitment committee.

two hours of telephoning for one cigarette

WORTH MORE THAN IT COSTS

In two hours your telephone can save you miles of errand running—make appointments—take you voice-visiting with friends— and is ready in case of emergency.

It does this and more. Yet it costs so little. In the average home in Lincoln two hours of telephone service costs about the same as one cigarette.

That's real value in convenience and protection—thrifty household management too.

Confidence Shown For 'Authorities'

T.V.A. Head Favors That Type Plan For Basin Developments

The general manager of the Tennessee Valley Authority, who recently spent a few days in Lincoln—now the focal point of a raging debate over Missouri river development—would not permit himself to be drawn into that debate. But George Gant has undiminished confidence in the authority-type administration for developing the resources of a great river basin.

And that includes the Missouri basin.

Gant's pride in what the Tennessee Valley Authority has accomplished is obvious when he recites such incontrovertible facts as:

1—Since 1933—when the TVA was set up—2,600 new manufacturing establishments cropped up in the Tennessee valley. Of those, less than 10 moved to the valley. The others sprang up there to utilize and add to the wealth of the valley and the nation.

2—Outright increase in individual income of valley residents—and hence of the federal treasury. In 1933 the average per capita income of valley residents was 40 per cent of the national average. By 1948 that average income had been increased to 60 per cent of the national average. (Those across-the-board increases in valley wealth have added two billion dollars in additional income taxes to the federal treasury.)

3—Reduction of farm tenancy. Farm tenancy in the Tennessee valley is now less than what it is in the midwest.

4—Increased power production. Before TVA was established the annual output of electric energy in the 80,000 square miles of the valley was 800,000 kilowatts. Now the output is 2,800,000 kilowatts. And during the next three years that will be boosted to 4,000,000 kwh.

All this, the TVA chief noted, was a stimulant to private enterprise. And it came at a time when private enterprise needed a boost.

But more important, has TVA made any inroads on the governmental authority of the so-called "sovereign" states in the valley? Has it usurped any of the supervisory powers of the state?

. . . TVA General Manager George Gant.

This reporter made inquiry to that effect. Mr. Gant was quick to reply.

"On the contrary," he said. "In the Tennessee valley state activities have expended more rapidly than in other parts of the country."

He then noted the progress of states with the assistance of TVA: In industrial development, in soil conservation and research, in state planning. And all the time it was boosting the standard of living of people in the area.

Too, the TVA has accomplished this with what is recognized to be the near peak in efficiency and economy—in money and time. That is accomplished by virtue of the fact that the agencies for development of the valley are grouped under a single administrative agency.

What parallel can then be drawn with development of the Missouri basin? The experience of TVA should be "of much interest" to people of the mid-west, Gant offered.

"The common sense of the people in the Missouri basin will in the end lead them to the plan which will let them make the best use of the water in the Missouri," Gant said.

And what is the "common sense plan?" President Truman once defined the TVA as "the common sense method of administering a great valley development program."

Mr. Gant is a former Lincolnite, and a graduate of the University of Nebraska. During the week he was visiting his father, Cornelius Gant, 465 south Twenty-fifth street.

Fire Damages Des Moines Hotel, Theater

. . . $160,000 Damage

DES MOINES —(AP)— A stubborn fire preceded by an explosion destroyed a stationery store, damaged a moving picture theater and ignited the roof of a hotel early today before it could be controlled.

Damage to the Des Moines Stationery Co. and to the building was estimated at more than $160,000.

All the occupants of the Franklin hotel, located at Fifth and Locust in downtown Des Moines, were evacuated before the roof of the five-story, 150-room hotel caught fire.

Sparks showered up when the roof of the stationery store building collapsed shortly after midnight, igniting the hotel.

Chapter 27.

For the first time in her life, Anne began to realize what it meant to have someone really in love with her. Romantically in love, that is. She had always known a father's love. With the break-up of her near marriage to Tony, she had begun to realize that she even had had some sisterly love from Adele. But all this was nothing compared to Don's love for her which proceeded to catch her up and sweep her along on the wave of a great emotion. They laughed together, ployed together, even worked together on such things as the snow-shoveling. They were in perfect laughing accord.

She realized now that all her dreams of Tony — and they had not been many — had been of mothering him. Always it was to protect him from himself. Tony could never mean anything to her again.

And Don meant everything. She could say it aloud, as he seemed to include everything. It was just a month after his return from the west, that he asked Anne to marry him and slipped an engagement ring on her finger. She had been expecting it but she was also surprised. The ring was not the sort to take her breath away. He said simply that the time had come to tell her he wanted her to be his wife. And she said yes.

When Mary wanted to be told all about it the next day there was nothing to tell. When two newspapers called up there was nothing to report except that she was going to marry Don Carey and expected to be very happy.

Mrs. Carey was at White Sulphur Springs and telephoned warmest congratulations to her daughter. She would give a big party on her return from a cure she was taking. Adele fairly gurgled over the phone in her enthusiasm. At last Anne was being quite sensible.

She went up to try on a new dress Roger had brought home for her in his impulsive way. This time his impulse had been quite correct, because it suited her perfectly. She danced into his room to show him but he wasn't there. She ran down to the library. He wasn't there either, but someone else was. The afternoon sun flooded over the tall handsome figure sitting at the big desk.

"Tony!" She gasped.

"Hello, Anne. You wonder how I got in? Have you forgotten I still have my key?" And my room?

She came into the room quietly. "It is Don's room now."

"And Tony is quite forgotten?"

"The newspapers will not let us forget our erstwhile friend Tony Raymond even if we should wish to do so."

"Bravo." He laughed suddenly. "I came to see you, Anne, I needed to talk to you very privately."

"I don't think I should care to do so."

"How about my congratulations, Anne? You know you are catching a rich young man who has been chased in vain by many beauteous damsels."

"I haven't chased Don."

"I used an incorrect verb."

"You have changed, Tony. You want only money. You are getting it. You look completely satisfied. I have no doubt you are."

"And you, Anne? You are marrying a rich man."

"I am merely marrying the man I love. If he were out of a job it wouldn't affect my love in the least."

She turned away from him and walked to a window. "Aren't we wasting time, Tony? You didn't come here to talk. Your time is far too valuable for that, if mine is worth less than nothing. Think of all the well paid advice you could be giving."

"I am giving that now. Don't marry Don Carey."

"Why are we talking in circles, Tony?"

"You feel you know everything about him, don't you, Anne?"

"Everything I need to know."

"I wonder." He paused for effect. "Did you know he is married?"

Her eyes opened very wide and she looked at him in amazement. Tony picked up his hat and bowed to her gaily.

"I came to tell you that. When you thought he was out with the cowboys he was out trying to get a divorce. He thinks he got it, but his wife says no, it isn't quite right. So she came to New York to get a good lawyer."

Anne fought for words. "You mean you—"

"Why not, my dear? There aren't enough murders to go around, are there? A little civil practice is good. And Lenore is a cute kid. You probably suspect that—or Don wouldn't have married her. She has been dancing with Celia's show in Chicago. Did he tell you he came through there to see her? Ask him."

Anne stood very straight. "I don't need to ask Don anything. He came back through Chicago because all train do and he wanted to see the twins."

Tony's laugh was mocking. "Did he tell you that? Ask him about Lenore. I'll run along now so you'll have a chance to think about things."

"Good-bye, Tony."

"Like that?" He grinned. "Aren't you going to order me out and tell me never to darken your door again?"

"Certainly not. But I would like the house key, please."

She held out her hand. He put the key into it, then kissed her hand and was gone. She walked slowly into the front parlor and looked down into the street. Tony was talking to Roger—and laughing. Roger was not laughing. A minute more and Tony popped into his flashy car and whirled away. She drew a deep breath and then ran down to let her father in and show him how well the new dress fitted.

Truckers' Share

Dean Roy M. Green of the Engineering College of the University of Nebraska directs attention to the same question that has been troubling highway commissions in a majority of the states. Even under the increased gas tax and the higher motor vehicle license fees adopted by the 1949 legislature, Dean Green says, the heavy truck is not yet paying its fair share of highway construction costs. The users of passenger cars, he insists, are still subsidizing heavy truck transportation. He reduces it to this sentence:

"The average heavy truck pays about 3.4 times more a highway-mile in gas tax and registration fees, yet its share of surface construction costs is nearly 26 times as much a vehicle-mile."

Truck transportation, of course, is a part of a modern world. The reflection inspired by Dean Green is that the heavy truck is getting off easy, yet is bitterly opposed to the highway measures enacted by the last legislature. The trucking industry may not know how lucky it really is.

Addition To Rock Creek Park

India's Nehru did not have a great deal to say about where he would go and with whom he would talk while he was in this country. He was "captive" to a lot of fancy dinners and receptions. But when Nehru got back home, he could decide what gift to send back to America in appreciation of the hospitality shown here. He has selected two baby elephants for the Rock Creek zoo. They are due to reach Washington this week and we'll bet that thousands of kids will acclaim him as the best good-will ambassador from foreign shores.

Belgium's King

For a day, filled with excitement and conflict, the people of Belgium marched back into the past. They voted in substantial strength for the return of their king, Leopold.

It was a fantastic election. For thirty years, monarchy has been crumbling, thrones have been tottering, crowns have been falling in this bright, new world of ours. Only the slightest vestiges of the system of royalty remain on the continent of Europe in the lashing gales that have swept most of its land area.

But the people of Belgium have had a genuine affection for their royal family. It goes back to the father of Leopold, King Albert, who, in a hundred different ways, endeared himself to his subjects, and in the first global conflict, strengthened the bonds between him and his people by his sustained resistance to German invasion. Fate has been a little unkind to Leopold. He came to the throne of Belgium at a time when it took more than a brave heart to weather the storm. His father had known trench warfare—stationary conflict—in which armies looked out upon each other from deep trenches and solid masonry. Leopold lived in a world in which armed strife had become a war of movement, with tanks and planes, and mechanized equipment completely changing all conceptions of defense. Brave as he was, it would have been impossible for Albert to beat back the waves which engulfed the country over which his son, Leopold, ruled.

It remains for the Belgium assembly to ratify the popular vote before Leopold can come home.

An Open Mind

Nine Lincoln business men and city officials, The Denver Post reported, visited the Colorado metropolis last Saturday in the hope of finding the answer to city government. The most significant statement in The Post story was put in the mouth of Byron Dunn. Although the Lincoln council recently rejected an offer of public housing, Mr. Dunn was quoted as saying, city officials still have an open mind and we're willing to learn what we can from Denver's experience in that field. That's encouraging, but we know of no reason if the council still is of an open mind, why it doesn't say so.

Three Great Trees

An exchange in a neighboring state shows concern over three of the finest trees in America. One is the chestnut, rarely seen in the midwest, but a stately specimen of tree life along the Atlantic seaboard, and well remembered there by all boys and girls who have gathered chestnuts. Great sport and good eating! The word is that a blight of unknown nature has stripped the eastern seaboard of its chestnuts. The American elm is another favorite that has taken it on the chin. Nebraskans will remember that the outbreak of cankerworms, not necessarily fatal, but a threat, created some loss a year ago, and a possible more serious challenge next spring. Spreading from the east to the midwest is a fungus attacking the oak. Thus far, Nebraska oaks have escaped. Here are three great trees that have contributed a great deal to America and while we are tossing money around, some could well be spent for a war upon their enemies.

SOWS' EARS AND SILK PURSES

BY J. E. LAWRENCE

A handful of Nebraska democrats, reputedly, have been flirting with the idea of making gambling an issue in the 1950 campaign. Better they forget it. It isn't smart; only stupid. And if they succeed in luring the party into their way of thinking, once again Nebraska democrats will end up in the ditch, flat on their backs, wondering what happened to them. One reason why nationally the republican party has gone down to defeat is that its leadership has not been honest with itself. One reason Nebraska democrats have been a hopeless, futile, beaten force in this state is that its spokesmen have not faced up with facts.

Who can make a case for gambling? What actually does it contribute to human happiness, or sound living? In individual cases, what stark tragedy has it brought to homes, and to the women and children in those homes?!

Could anything establish more clearly how far men speaking for the democratic party in Nebraska have drifted completely away from the thinking, from the heart of the people of Nebraska if there is any truth in the reports that some democrats have been putting their heads together to figure out a slick plan to court the gambling vote? Nebraska never has gone for rackets or racketeers to fleece gullible people out of their money—for the professional gambler, and the huge gambling syndicates which operate from out of crowded American cities.

We read "Mike" McLaughlin's statement with a great deal of care. It had a very considerable merit. It called attention to developments in connection with the attorney general's office of Nebraska so richly deserving the thought of the people. It had an admirable, rugged honesty.

Mr. McLaughlin invited attention to the fact that there are 93 county attorneys in Nebraska—an equal number of sheriffs—and, police or law-enforcement officials in every incorporated city in the state. They are charged with enforcing the law—and, not merely the law against setting fire to a neighbor's house, the law against murder, or the law against rape—but it means enforcing the law against gambling. Why are these officials paid salaries, if they have not been performing their duties? Why are we forever talking about Big Government, concentration of power at the expense of local government; if in the next breath, we insist gambling can be suppressed only through the strong arm of the attorney general's office?

We think The Omaha World-Herald was a bit unfair to Mike McLaughlin when it said this:

> "Voters should recognize that Mr. McLaughlin's promise boils down simply to this: That if he is named the state's chief law-enforcement officer, he will violate the law and dishonor his oath of office."

This is what Mike McLaughlin said on the subject of professional gambling and rackets, quoting his own language:

> "I realize many serious evils result from organized or syndicated professional gambling and other rackets. I will not tolerate such violations and activities and will enforce the law one hundred per cent in this respect."

We will march to the end of the road with The Herald in its denunciation of the professional gambler who preys upon the weakness of people, foolish enough to think they can win with the cards stacked against them. We go a step beyond The Herald.

In 1936, pari mutuel betting was legalized in Nebraska by the popular vote through approval of a constitutional amendment promoted by Ak-Sar-Ben. Last year, in a 32-day race meeting, thousands of Nebraskans playing at the pari mutuel windows, forked out an approximate 8½ million dollars, from which Ak-Sar-Ben took a cut of 10 per cent, or approximately $850,000. It collected fifteen cents on every racing admission ticket sold, added $200 a day for an operator's license—all to be split among the 93 counties of the state to support county fairs or 4-H club activities. In 1949, the "take" on admission tickets aggregated $31,326.60, license, $6,400. Ak-Sar-Ben split $37,041.90 among the 93 counties in the state, each receiving $398.30. Out of its own "take" of 10 per cent, an approximate $850,000, Ak-Sar-Ben put up the fancy racing purses, paid help, and all other expense of the 32-day racing meet; and, had an approximate $250,000 left over, velvet, which, under the provisions of the amendment, is to be devoted exclusively to improvement of the physical plant of Ak-Sar-Ben, and the livestock industry. In short, Ak-Sar-Ben, a fine organization, with which the editor has no quarrel, drew upon the gambling instincts of people, to build a great institution to draw people to Omaha, and to boost Nebraska.

Not a newspaper squeaked in denunciation of it; not a man in public life raised his voice in protest. It went through with a whoop and a hurrah. We smile upon it because a part of the swag goes to lofty purposes, private gain eliminated. We think that down underneath, there are thousands of Nebraskans disturbed—straight-thinking Nebraskans who are troubled by the thought that law privileges gambling in one civic undertaking; frowns upon all others who try to raise money for good purposes by other forms of gambling.

There is a remedy for all this. Justice should be even-handed in its ban against all kinds of betting—including the $2 ticket at the pari mutuel window. Are we ready to ban pari mutuel betting? We'll hazard the guess that if the merchants of Omaha were to speak up, they would confess that some bills go unpaid while the racing meet is on.

Now, Mr. McLaughlin said he would stay on the job. Is that important? Former Attorney General Walter R. Johnson was out of his office much of the last year of his last term, lobbying for Tidelands Oil in Washington at a good salary and a fat expense account. Is it important that the attorney general stay on his job? Slightly more than a year after he was sworn into office, Attorney General Jim Anderson quit in midstream to take an attractive offer in private practice. We are told that the salary of the attorney general was not adequate. Mr. Anderson knew what the salary was when he became a candidate for the office. And what is the answer to that? We wonder if The World-Herald read one explanation in a Nebraska newspaper:

> "Mr. Anderson entered office with numerous assurances from members of the legislature that the attorney general's salary would be increased. But nothing was done."

Who are the legislators who gave that assurance? When were those assurances given? Were they made during the time of the campaign so that the people of Nebraska might know that at the time they were electing an attorney general, it was on the condition that his salary would be raised?

Mike McLaughlin's statement centers attention to those developments. There is some merit to that.

The DAILY WASHINGTON
MERRY-GO-ROUND
TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note—Drew Pearson today continues his diagnosis of the cold war and a program for winning the peace).

WASHINGTON—During the war, Stalin often held up the United States to the Russian people as an example of the goals which might be attained by Russia. As a result a great deal of good will was built up for the United States in the Soviet Union. It is now requiring a great deal of propaganda on the part of Moscow to sell the Russian people on hatred for the U. S. A.

Drew Pearson

So far it hasn't been done.

This is why the problem of winning the peace by making friends with the Russian people, though long and difficult, has some points in our favor.

Few people outside Russia realized it, but during Hitler's attack the communist regime was anything but popular in Russia. In fact, there was such resentment against the Kremlin that some Moscow residents literally hoped the Germans would take over and help give them a new government. Hostility got so intense that U. S. diplomats found it expedient to take the American flags off their automobiles, because they were booed and even stoned for shipping arms to help the communist regime.

Later, this hostility changed—as a result of two factors. First, Russia began to win. More immediate and perhaps more important, Stalin made some shrewd moves to appease Russian opinion. A sort of "nepman"—or private trader—period was inaugurated during which the Russian people were given freedoms they never enjoyed before.

Leaders were selected for ability rather than party affiliation. A modified form of capitalism was permitted in stores and on farms Collective farmers were permitted to sell part of their crops on the market.

This resulted in much better feeling toward the communist regime, coupled with victories, it brought the government and people closer together.

A few months after the war this was rudely shattered. The old system of tight communist controls was reinstated with a vengeance. The change took place shortly after the decision not to let American troops and soldiers from the red army intermingle and about the time Stalin and Molotov had begun cold-shouldering allied leaders at the Potsdam and San Francisco conferences. Apparently, the Kremlin has made up its mind that Russia not only must remain isolated but that she must begin an aggressive campaign to spread communism in the rest of the world.

At any rate, there followed a series of repressive measures, a purge of intellectuals and a gigantic propaganda campaign to isolate Russia from the west. Intellectuals were even purged not for what they said and wrote against communism but for what they failed to say and write for communism.

Coupled with these repressive measures, the Kremlin has given the Russian people more consumer goods and tried to improve their economic status. This has helped, but not enough.

There still remains widespread resentment against the regime, which has come near breaking into open revolt in such places as the Ukraine. Transportation and distribution systems are so poor that temporary deprivation and even starvation have resulted in big cities because shipment of foods did not arrive on time. Some

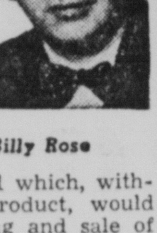
Pitching Horseshoes
By BILLY ROSE

Starting tonight, no French champagne will be sold at my night club, and patrons who request same will have to settle for domestic fizz-water — which is a lot easier on the pocket-book.



Billy Rose

What gives?

The French communists and Coca-Cola—that's what gives.

As you probably know, the French national assembly recently passed a bill which, without naming the product, would prohibit the bottling and sale of Coca-Cola in France and its colonies. Two pressure groups were responsible for this measure—the wine interests which feared that the soft drink might cut into their profits, and the communists who, though they have no love for the vintners, saw an opporunity to take a rabbit punch at the United States.

Suiting invective to word, the commie paper, L'Humanite, unleashed a campaign against the "coca-colonization" of the country, loud-mouthing that the basic syrup is highly toxic and would turn La Belle France into a nation of "coca-holics." At the same time, the right-wing press, fronting for the fizz merchants, began to blab along the same lines, and even the usually sensible Le Monde warned that "the moral landscape of France is at stake."

Before I go any further, let me get it into the record that I'm not a big coke drinker and never owned a share of stock in the company. As far as I'm concerned, the beverage is just another American product like Orange Crush, 7-Up or Dr. Brown's Celery Tonic. Furthermore, under ordinary circumstances I wouldn't even be mad at the French wine lobby, since it's only doing to Coca-Cola what our butter producers have been doing for years to oleomargine.

But the circumstances aren't ordinary, and the usually intelligent French must have been pulling their corks not to have realized it. By initiating an anti-coke campaign, they have given Stalin's stooges a made-to-order excuse for yelping, "Down with American imperialism" — the same sleazy slogan used by commies everywhere to divert attention from the accomplishments of the Marshall Plan.

At I see it, this legislative lunacy is based on two arguments, one medical, the other economic. Let's consider them in that order.

The medical argument boils to the contention that the syrup used in the manufacture of Coca-Cola is derived from bug-juice and melted razor blades, and is liable to cause a variety of ailments ranging from pink-eye to rigor mortis. Well, the best rebuttal to that jabberwocky is the statement made by James J. Farley, roving ambassador for the soft drink company:

"Coca-Cola wasn't injurious to the health of the American soldiers who liberated France from the Nazis so that the communist deputies could be in session today."

As for the argument that the distribution of Coca-Cola would create unemployment and cut into profits—that, too, is a lot of bottletops. The set-up of the Coca-Cola Export Corporation is such that the entire manufacture and sale would be carried out by French personnel, on French territory, and under French supervision and ownership. Or to put it another way, it would be the beginning of a new French industry, and potentially a pretty big one, judging from the fact that more than 100,000 Americans derive part or all of their incomes from the parent company and its subsidiaries.

From where I cogitate, it boils down to this: John Q. Frenchman is being denied a choice between Coke and vino only because the Lefties, aided and abetted by the bird-brain Righties, don't like the country Coca-Cola comes from.

Well, Messieurs et Mesdames, two can play at boycott as well as one, and so, starting tonight, no French champagne will be sold in my night club until the idiotic ban against our home product is lifted.

Moreover, I'm hereby appealing to liquor stores, hotels, restaurants and night club proprietors all over the country to follow suit—and to wire or write me when they do. And if they'd like to explain the boycott to their customers, they're at liberty to run off reprints of this column — of course, crediting this paper.

And remember, Messieurs et Mesdames, that if that doesn't work we can get really tough and stop buying your French postcards.

Nebraska's Camera Enthusiasts Look Ahead
No. 2 of a Series

LOAD up the camera, dust off the lens, improvise some lighting, and get the small son or daughter, nephew or niece, little neighbor girl or boy to sit for you and start taking pictures. You'll be surprised at the results.

"JENNIE," a fine example of a camera enthusiast's skill.

Take for example, the picture above. This portrait of "Jennie" was taken by John Luebs, Lincoln amateur, with the bare essentials of equipment.

Luebe used a camera that takes a 2¼x3¼ negative, a panchromatic film—Super XX, and two breadpans pressed into service as reflectors for No. 1 and No. 2 photoflood lamps.

The breadpan-reflector phase of this picture was particularly resourceful and could be duplicated by anyone. Luebs bought the two breadpans and cut a hole in the bottom to accomodate the lamp bases. He rigged up clamps to hold them and the lighting problem was solved.

RECOGNITION the print has won includes first place in "Print of the Month" contest of the Lincoln Camera club and hanging in the club's fall salon last year. The print was also hung in last year's State Fair gallery.

A word of advice from Luebs on shooting children's pictures is: "The photographer should know the child and the child should know the photographer. The child should be holding something or doing something; this improves expression. As few persons as necessary should be in the room, because the child is more natural if there is not a crowd watching."

Luebs also suggested that a panchromatic film, rather than an orthochromatic film, be used because the former is more sensitive to red. Since flesh has a tendency toward red or pink, the tone rendition will be more accurate.

NEWS on the camera club front this week is the election of officers of the Weco Camera club, a club for Western Electric employes.

New officers are:

Ken Eckwall, president.
Jack Wier, vice president in charge of program.
Oscar Sward, vice president in charge of activities.
John Bundy, secretary-treasurer.
Claire Poulson, publicity chairman.

The Weco club's next meeting will be Monday night, March 13, at the home of W. W. "Bud" Eden, 4643 Calvert street. Eden will demonstrate to the group how color pictures are made. Members should make reservations for the meeting by contacting Eden or other club officials.

Normally the club, which has 85 members, meets once a month at the Y.M.C.A. The programs are usually of an educational nature with speakers, demonstrations and films.

Activities of the Weco club include a summer salon, an annual color slide contest and a regular print contest. Ribbons and merchandise awards are presented to the respective winners.

Erratic Weather Reports.

Rockville, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Since the weather map was again omitted from Wednesday's edition of The Star, we wonder why this is. We hope that The Lincoln Star will try to print the weather map every day. As farmers in central Nebraska have only very erratic weather reports from the weather bureau, and which we are forced to accept as statements of fact instead of predictions, this excellent weather map which your paper carries is of great value to those of us who have barometers and can make our own assumptions. The weather reports we receive over the radio do not in any way tell us what is going to come, but after it is here, it becomes a prediction for eastern Nebraska. We sincerely hope that every daily issue will contain the weather map.

ELMER RASMUSSEN.

Editor's note: The editor apreciates fully the importance of the weather map to many readers; regrets its ommission in some editions last Wednesday. The weather map is a newspaper "must."

Vote Of Appreciation.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Some weeks ago, there was an item in this column that referred to Nebraska and its shortcomings causing loss in population. I was a trifle doubtful of some of the remarks so I checked up a bit in regard to the public utilities, labor prices, etc. I must say that the writer was correct in his remarks. The power plant employes do not get a pension or social security; they do get sick-leave allowances and vacation pay. However, in regard to wages, I found that laborers on various construction jobs in Lincoln are getting more per hour than the top paid man actually working as a utility employe. I was amazed at this as I was under the impression the men who produce the electricity we use made a better wage than what I discovered. I, for one, believe they certainly deserve higher wages and better working conditions. Most of the men are past middle age and several are eligible for retirement now, but the officials have not made arrangements for them yet. I think all of our men employed in the various public utilities deserve a vote of appreciation from the citizens of Lincoln.

Help In The Storm

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: I noticed the names of six university students in the paper who were so very kind in helping people across street corners during one of the worst storms I believe Lincoln has ever had. Talk about "Courtesy Days" — these fine young men not only gave their time, but really endured a lot of discomfort. Hats off to them! Why can't they be guests of the city chamber of commerce or civic groups? Let them be introduced for their kindness and thoughtfulness.

If more kind acts like this were extended, it would build a better world in which to live. It would build character and backbone which we need today in this trying world! Roundup not only these fine young fellows, but any others who in any way extended a helping hand. Recognize them! Entertain them! It's the least we can do!

Eating Up Surpluses

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: Dr. Butler, speaking at the farm conference in Omaha, said that the way to get rid of our farm surpluses was to eat them up. Yes, Doctor, we could do that if we had free enterprise once more, but with the farm law the biggest utopia ever put on the statute books, that is impossible. That law is keeping prices up so that millions of our people just can't purchase the things needed in our daily diet. Apparently Dr. Butler doesn't know of these facts or he wouldn't advocate eating up our surpluses. There are just too many people in this country who don't know that the purchasing power of the dollar is getting less daily for the everyday needs of the dinner table. So Dr. Butler's prescription won't work out. Just recently, congress voted two billion dollars to purchase surplus crops this year to skyrocket prices, and the CCC just let contracts for millions of dollars for aluminum bins to store last year's crops. Why doesn't congress pass the Brannan plan, let the people buy the surpluses, and pay the difference on lower market prices rather than parity prices to keep the surpluses at billions: Some people say that no one knows the cost of the Brannan plan and ask this question: Does anyone know what the prevailing parity prices will cost? Five billions won't cover the cost of parity during the present fiscal year. That amount is just pocket change in the minds of many.

WISE HEART.

The heart has wisdom of a gentler kind
Than that which lights with brilliance the mind.
Knowledge of facts and figures can be gained,
By tutors aught and from the books obtained,
But life has deeper wisdom to impart
And trains with harsh experience the heart.

Man can be wise and still unfair remain;
Remember facts; forget the sting of pain;
Know just what flame will ore to metal turn
And still not know how deeply scorn will burn.
The mind, perfection constantly demands,
The heart, why mortals miss it, understands.

Life tries to teach us good and ill we share
Sorrow and suffering all in time must bear.
The mind forgets when failure ends a test
The troubled man is never at his best.
The wise heart, from experience recalls
That every child needs pity when he falls.

How Important Is This Man's "YES"?

W. R. MORRISON

He's the man whose "yes" helped to put an ambitious boy through medical school.

Another occasion, his friendly "yes" started a man in business and today that man's business is a growing, paying proposition.

And then there was the time his "yes" enabled a worried family to get from under a stack of unpaid bills and his friendly advice put that family's budget on a sound, secure basis.

This man whose "yes" has brought peace of mind to thousands of people by helping them get a fresh start is the manager of the Personal Finance Co. office in this city.

His job is to make personal loans, and to keep the transactions on a business-like basis. His years of experience with Personal have taught him to respect the honesty of local people—friends, relatives, or employer are not brought into the picture.

Don't borrow unnecessarily. But if a loan—for a month or a year, or longer—is the sensible thing for you (and you're the judge) the YES MAN will appreciate the chance to say "yes."

You can telephone him . . . or drop in to see him at the Personal Finance Company office. He says "yes" to 4 out of 5.

Truman Asks Agencies Changes

21 Reorganization Plans Are Suggested To Congress

Move To Abolish Maritime Commission Faces Fight

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman today sent congress a sheaf of plans to reorganize a long list of federal agencies and abolish one—the maritime commission.

Seaboard congressmen and shipping interests were expected to fight the proposal to shift control of the merchant marine over to Secretary of Commerce Sawyer.

In another of his 21 proposals, Mr. Truman lit the fuse for a second major explosion in congress by calling for abolition of the almost-independent office of the general counsel of the national labor relations board. The post is held by Robert N. Denham.

Calls NLRB "Pro-Labor."

Denham, prosecutor and policeman of the Taft-Hartely law, is at odds with the NLRB majority. He calls it "pro-labor." Labor unions in turn have demanded Denham's removal.

The White House plans take effect automatically in 60 days, unless vetoed by either the house or senate.

In 23 accompanying messages to congress, Mr. Truman said the plans will save "modest" to "substantial" sums. All are based on proposals of the reorganization commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover, he said, adding:

"These plans will take us well along the road toward more effective, economical and responsible government."

The commerce department would take over all activities of the five-member maritime commission, which has regulated American shipping for 14 years.

Strengthen Cabinet Posts.

Six of the White House plans strengthen the power of cabinet officers—the secretaries of treasury, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor, and the attorney general.

Seven of them build up the executive authority of the chairmen of commissions regulating business, labor and finance. Each chairman becomes the administrative boss of his agency.

Two plans build up the labor department. It would take over all workmen's compensattion activities of the federal government, as well as wage-hour enforcement on federal contracts.

Five plans affect the new general services administration. GSA would lose several jobs to interior department, including the new Alaska public works program.

The final plan of the batch is the maritime commission proposal. Shipping interests already have indicated they will oppose it.

When these become low, Mr. Truman said, "we shall have acted on almost half" of the 318 recommendations of the Hoover commission. More plans will be sent to Capitol Hill this session, he added.

of the ablest Russian executives have been purged and this has slowed up efficiency.

The situation inside Russia, is reported to be mild compared with the political seething which exists inside Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia.

Morris Ernst, the New York attorney who flew to Vienna to try to defend Robert Vogeler, reports that this area is burning with unrest and ripe for a skillful American propaganda drive. It was this unrest, of course, which finally divorced Yugoslavia from the Russian fold, and it is this unrest which is probably the root cause of the Vogeler-Shipkov trials in Hungary and Bulgaria in order to make an example of anyone who dares be sympathetic with Americans.

Today the state department's Voice of America is doing a competent job of beaming American ideas into Europe. And the fact that the Russians have taken such pains to jam "The Voice" indicates that it is having some impact.

However, our propaganda organiaztion has been handicapped by lack of funds. The oldest agency in government naturally shrinks from some of the imaginative, forthright operations put across by Gen. "Wild Bill" Donovan's OSS during the war.

Nor does the state department have the money and imagination to carry on some of the spectacular but effective moves conceived by Ed Stanley of the office of war information when thousands of matchbooks bearing MacArthur's picture were dropped over the Philippines; or when Bob Parker, also of OWI, placed thousands of Catholic Bibles bearing greetings from Americans inside the churches of Hungary.

There is no one formula for winning the peace. If we are not to let the battle for peace go by default, if we are not to fall back on the horrible expedient of dropping the atomic bomb, then both individual Americans and the American government must map out the most consistently waged peace and propaganda campaign ever seen in the history of the world. This may take 25 years, 50. Or, as Frederick Osborn predicts, it might conceivably take 100 years.

Pennsylvania's stern Sen. Ed Martin looked a trifle sheepish the other day when he confessed that he had spoken for but voted against a special committee to study small-business problems. So Martin belatedly asked the senate's permission to change his vote.

"My attention was first called to the matter when a man wrote me because I made a speech contrary to the way my vote is recorded," admitted Martin humbly.

"When the senator does that, he becomes a statesman," cracked Democratic Leader Scott Lucas.

Health Plans Are Meeting Needs Of U.S.

. . . AMA Official Says

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—An officer of the American Medical Association contended last night that the swift growth of voluntary hospitalization and medical-care plans will eliminate any need for "socialized medicine" in the United States.

Dr. Louis H. Bauer of New York, chairman of the AMA's board of trustees, declared in Los Angeles that the voluntary plans are expanding so rapidly that virtually all Americans will be covered by both hospital and medical insurance in a few years.

Dr. Bauer admitted before the alumni association of the College of Medical Evangelists, however, that constructive planning is necessary to make voluntary plans superior to socialized proposals. He said:

"It must be made possible for all individuals, rather than members of groups, to secure protection. Persons over 65, who need it most, must be made eligible.

"Also, we need a type of coverage corresponding to the $25 or $50 deductible policies for automobile damage. Thus a person can have real security against a long and costly illness."

U. Of N. Symphony Concert 'Finest' In Many Respects

By RONALD BARNES.

The University of Nebraska Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Emanuel Wishnow, played its "spring" concert, a little early seasonally, but much needed right now, in the ballroom of the Student Union Sunday.

In several respects, it was the finest playing, and the most enjoyable, that this progressive organization has done. The steady improvement of the orchestra's performances is due largely to two things: Hard work, and since efforts on the part of the students who play in it. It is obvious too, that Mr. Wishnow is growing with his orchestra; and that is as it should be, a give and take process, which naturally makes for improvement.

Sunday's concert opened with Mozart's last great orchestral work, his Symphony No. 41, K. 551, popularly known as the "Jupiter." Although Mr. Wishnow took some rather disturbing liberties with the tempo and beat, which were not to the advantage of the performances, the over-all effect of the music is good.

"Dynamic Spirit."

The members of the orchestra seemed to capture the dynamic spirit of the music which they played with energy and precision. Only when the group of musicians becomes disciplined is it possible for them to perform music as extraordinary in its technical requirements as this Mozart symphony.

The "Spring" motive of the concert was definitely established by the performance of Camille Saint-Saens' Carnival of the Animals, which is just what the title says it is, a carnival.

With Ernest Harrison and John Blyth playing the duo-piano part, the orchestra made its way through an extensive zoological "manage" which contained everything from Fossils to Pianists. Evidently Saint-Saens considered pianists some kind of animal, or else they would not have been included; at any rate, this special breed of animal did a splendid job of contributing to the general fun.

Entertaining Tableaux.

In this entertaining set of musical tableaux, Saint-Saens gives the entire orchestra plenty to do, not only in the many solo passages, but in full orchestra movements as well. Outstanding solo work was done by the flutes and clarinets and the cello section in the well-known and perpetually lovely "Swan."

Mr. Wishnow was at his best directing the Prelude and Love Death from Wagner's opera, Tristan and Isolde. The Prelude calls for a frenzied, yet controlled buildup, which Wishnow handled admirably, giving the work the emotional drive it requires, yet never overindulging its lush potentialities. The bitter-sweet Love Death was also well played. It was perhaps a little too hurried at the climaxes, but not enough to ruin the direction of music.

Berlioz Number Played.

The concert concluded with another spirited composition, appropriate to the occasion, Hector Berlioz's Roman Carnival Overture. This music, if heavy and over-burdened, managers to make merry with a great deal of effort, and served to bring the program to a happy conclusion.

This "spring concert" was completely delightful and was enjoyed by a crowd of enthusiastic listeners who filled the room to overflowing, a testimonial to the increasing popularity and appreciation of the University Symphony orchestra.

—Worst Disaster In Aviation History Probed—

Chartered Plane Falters; 80 Die

Craft, Packed With Happy Football Fans, Crashes While Landing At Cardiff, Wales

CARDIFF, Wales—(AP)—Eighty persons died here yesterday in the crash of a chartered Tudor airliner packed with Welsh football fans celebrating a victory over the Irish. It was aviation's worst commercial plane disaster.

British aviation experts, headed personally by Minister of Civil Aviation Lord Pakenham, began an inquiry here today in the latest accident involving the unlucky Tudor ships. The crash came as the giant plane was landing on a return flight from Dublin.

Of the 78 passengers and five crewmen aboard, only three survived. It brought the toll of deaths in Tudor planes—Britain's first postwar four-engined commercial aircraft—to 144.

Preparing To Land.

The chartered plane, biggest in active service in Britain, was preparing to land in sunny weather.

Tired but happy Rugby football enthusiasts aboard had traveled by plane and train to Belfast to see Wales down Ireland 6-3 in the United Kingdom championships. After a night of celebrating in Dublin, they were returning home by their chartered aircraft.

The big four-engined plane appeared to be touching down at Llandow airport near here for a normal landing when, without warning, it roared back into a climb. It smashed to earth in a field after making a righthand turn and sideslipping.

The huge plane crashed 15 yards from a house. It did not explode or burn.

Two Unhurt

Two of three survivors, brothers-in-law, walked out of the wreckage unaided and virtually unscratched. They had been sitting side by side in the tail of the plane.

The third survivor was critically hurt.

There were five women aboard, one the plane's stewardess. All were killed.

Most of the dead were coal miners, scheduled to return to the pits last night. They had scraped and saved for months to get the money for the trip.

Horrified relatives and friends who had crowded the airport to await the plane's return ran blindly to the accident scene.

Though the Tudor was built o carry a normal load of 44 persons, officials said it could carry many more without overloading on a short flight such as that from Dublin to Wales.

3 Put On Probation For Purse Snatching

OMAHA—(AP)—Three youths arrested in a purse snatching incident were placed on probation for two years when they came before District Judge James T. English on charges of larceny from the person.

The three are Gerald W. Mathews, 18, Robert Jungbluth, 18, and Lowell T. Ford, 18. Police said Mathews and Ford jumped from a car while Jungbluth waited, and tussled Arlene D. Peterson, 18, taking her purse. It contained $15. The girl was knocked down.

CHAPTER 11

The Paradox of Salvation.

"He saved others; himself He cannot save."—MATTHEW 27:42.

Aye, they could admit it now. They could grant Him triumphs of yesterday for, now today, the triumph was theirs!

It was strangely dark.

A thunderstorm was blowing up from the mountains and the clouds hid the sun.

Women took children by the hand and hurried back to the city. People looked up at the sky and became frightened.

It was an uncanny darkness.

They stood blinking at flashes of lightning like daggers of fire.

There were eyes watching this Man on the Cross . . . shifting doubting eyes . . . eyes through which Hell itself was looking . . . eyes with gloating in them . . . other eyes that looked and never saw.

Lips were moving . . . fierce fastened lips drawn in thin lines of cruelty . . . open lips that vomited blasphemy like craters of hate.

Faces were looking up at Him . . . white faces, mad faces, twisted and distorted, laughing faces . . . convulsed faces . . . faces jeering and roaring round the foot of the Cross.

Fingers pointed up to Him hanging quivering on the tree . . . long bony fingers . . . mocking, accusing fingers—fingers of scorn and ridicule.

There was noise . . . confused noise that beat in His ears.

There was demoniac laughter that enjoyed suffering, hoarse shouting that taunted and mocked.

From one side of Him there were sighs of pain and the soft moans of a dying thief, and on the other side blasphemies and curses terrible to hear.

There was weeping too, the crying of women and the unashamed sobbing of men.

The wounded flower of Magdala was consoled by that lovely one who once held Him in her arms, while the beloved John stood beside them.

Simon of Cyrene from time to time wiped away his tears with the back of his hand.

Peter stood on the fringe of the crowd blinded by hot tears that filled his eyes, while his very heart broke.

They hurled His own words back at Him, but they were barbs, dipped in venom and shot from snarling lips, like poisoned arrows.

"He saved others, Himself He cannot save.

Yes, he healed the cripples.

Yes, He gave sight to the blind.

He made withered arms whole again.

He even brought back the dead, but He cannot save Himself."

"Perform a miracle now, Miracle Man! Come down from the Cross, and we will believe you.

Aha, Thou who wouldest build the temple in three days. Thou hast nails in Thy hands . . Thou hast wood . . . go on and build Thy temple."

"If thou be the Christ . . . come on down from the Cross!"

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Ice Jams Bring Flood Threats Along Elkhorn River

Thawing May Cause Added Overflowing

Platte Gorge Near Linwood Remains Solid

Nebraska's flood spotlight shifted Monday from the Linwood area along the Platte river to Norfolk, where the Elkhorn was running almost at flood stage due to ice gorges.

An Associated Press dispatch from Norfolk reveals that an ice gorge east of the South First street bridge has caused the Elkhorn to back up and reach a reading of 9.3 feet at Norfolk. Ten feet is flood stage.

The gauge on the Elkhorn at West Point Monday morning read 13.5 feet, which is about two and a half feet above flood stage. The ice gorge causing this lowland flood formed March 7 just below West Point.

Harold Alexander, meteorologist in charge of the Norfolk weather station, said the cold weather the past few days has produced more ice in the rivers and locked in the gorges, which will be more difficult than ever to move. He said no serious high water developments are likely until warmer weather arrives. The new trouble, he said, may not take form until the ice gorges move downstream.

Meanwhile, in the Linwood-Schuyler area, thawing conditions predicted for Tuesday may mean additional flood trouble.

Low temperatures over the week-end have kept the gorge on the Platte solid and allowed families remaining on some of the 15 farms cut off by the gorge to go across the ice for supplies.

But when the ice melts, these farms will be marooned again. Monday, the flood situation was the same as existed over the week-end with food and supplies being dropped to the stricken area where needed.

On School island on the Platte, livestock was not faring so well. Some cows were calving, but they are losing ahe calves as fast as they are dropped, observers reported. Three or four cows calved Sunday and the calves promptly died. The cattle are packed so close together they have no room to move about the island.

An open channel flows on either side of them and there is no way of getting them out.

County Roads Closed.

Water flowing through the new channel caused by the gorge was down a little Monday morning, but it was expected to rise when the power plant at Columbus released more water down the river.

Several families were evacuated from the isolated farms Saturday, but the rest are staying on the farms. Their situation is not critical as long as the ice holds.

A number of county roads in the Linwood area are closed as the flood waters have made the bridges impassable.

Sarpy Feedlots Will Be Toured

PAPILLION, Neb. — Sarpy county's annual feedlot tour next Thursday will feature visits to six of the area's outstanding feedlots and talks by experts.

Prof. William J. Loeffel, chairman of the University of Nebraska's animal husbandry department, will conduct the tour which starts at 9 a.m. from the Sarpy county courthouse. Feedlots scheduled for visits include those on the farms of Lester Lutz, South Omaha; Harold Fricke, Ralph Leaders and Elmer Helwig, all of near Papillion; Earl Mortensen, near Fort Crook; and Phil Latham, near Springfield.

A banquet slated for 7 p.m. at Gretna will feature a talk on national farm plans by Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell, chairman of the University's agricultural economics department. Also scheduled for brief remarks are Hart Jorgensen of Omaha and Melvin Todd, Murray, president of the Nebraska Corn Belt Feeders association.

The tour is sponsored by the Sarpy County association and the county extension service.

Lincoln Man Honored For Conservation Work

OMAHA—(AP)—The 1950 Dr. Herbert Kennedy cup for outstanding work in conservation work has been awarded to Adrian Fox of Lincoln. Fox is director of conservation education for the United States Soil Conservation service at Lincoln.

This is the second annual award of the Nebraska conservation trophy. The first award went to William C. Bloom of Lexington last year.

Seek Hog Price Supports

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Reps. Miller and Curtis of Nebraska are among 32 house republicans who have demanded that Secretary of Agriculture Brannan announce the new hog price supports at once. With the present program due to end March 31, they said agriculture Secretary Brannan's "buck-passing" was causing confusion among hog farmers.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The cold air mass over the central areas is attended by sub-zero temperatures early Monday in the Dakotas, Minnesota and western and northern Nebraska, and freezing temperatures southward to central Texas. Light snow occurred in western Missouri, northeastern Kansas, and southern Nebraska Sunday evening as a southern storm moved northeastward to the upper Ohio valley, with heavy rainfall from central Mississippi to Tennessee and western North Carolina. Some of the heavier amounts recorded were: Memphis, Tennessee, 2.03, and Chattanooga 3.59 inches. Snow occurred farther north and rain eastward over the north and middle Atlantic states.

Curtis Proposes 'Partial Answer' To Ag Surpluses

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) has proposed what he calls "at least a partial answer" to growing agricultural surpluses.

In a statement issued Sunday, Curtis suggester that all gasoline blended with 10 per cent alcohol produced from domestic surplus farm crops be exempted from federal tax.

He added that he was preparing legislation along this line.

"This will provide a market for surplus crops of all kinds," he explained. "Grains or other similar products that may be wet or spoiling will have full value when used for alcohol manufacture."

The Nebraskan said increased demand for crops for alcohol distilling may well avoid creating surpluses "because certain crops that can be produced economically will provide low-cost alcohol and take out of production acres of crops now plagued with surpluses."

He added that additional legislation might be advisable authorizing the commodity credit corporation to sell perishable agriculture surpluses to alcohol processors at practical prices.

European Tour Is Planned By Wegner

OMAHA—(AP)—Msgr. Nicholas H. Wegner, director of Boys Town, plans a five week tour of Europe to visit orphanages and youth homes.

The priest will, in effect, be completing a mission started by the late Father Flanagan, who was making such a tour when he died, in Germany.

Monsignor Wegner will leave March 20 and visit Rome first.

Beatrice Bus Service Ends

Public Opinion Poll Favors System

BEATRICE, Neb. — (AP) — Beatrice was without a public transit system today.

Eugene Boswell, who had operated a bus line for a little less than two years, suspended operations Saturday night following an authorization from the state railway commission.

He had sought permission to halt service March 18, but announced Saturday that since the certificate did not expressly forbid halting the service earlier, and since it would be difficult to keep operating longer, he was ending the service Saturday night.

Boswell pointed out that there was bound to be an interruption in service even though the city or some other operator takes over the service. The chamber of commerce is studying the possibility of undertaking bus operations.

A chamber of commerce public opinion poll concluded Saturday showed 1,426 votes in favor of bus service and 93 opposed.

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Don Porter said if attorneys decide city operation of buses is legal the chamber may seek an election on the transportation issue.

Mrs. Tegtmeier, Carleton, Dies; 4-H Club Leader

CARLETON, Neb — Mrs. Oscar Tegtmeier, prominent Carleton farm wife, died Sunday noon in an ambulance while en route to a Lincoln hospital. Her death followed a sudden illness.

The former Ila Mae Bradford, she was born and reared in the Carleton vicinity. After attending the University of Nebraska college of agriculture for one year, Mrs. Tegtmeier entered nurses training at Bryan Memorial hospital, becoming a registered nurse.

While her husband was in the armed forces during World war II, she practiced nursing. The Tegtmeiers resided in Lincoln following the war during the time Mr. Tegtmeier was on the animal husbandry staff on the N. U. ag campus. For the past few years they have resided on a farm near Carleton.

Mrs. Tegtmeier was active in civic organizations. She was a member of the Methodist church and a 4-H club leader.

Surviving in addition to her husband are two sons, Richard and Robert; her mother, Mrs. Pearl Bradford; a brother, Orris Bradford, Spokane, Wash.; and a grandmother.

Funeral services will be held at Carleton, the date is still pending.

CCC Dealings Hurting Omaha Exchange Trade

. . . Grain Men Claim

OMAHA — (AP) — Commodity credit corporation grain dealings are imperiling trade on the Omaha Grain Exchange, the Omaha World-Herald said in a copyrighted story Sunday.

The newspaper said the CCC, using price support and loan programs, is getting the lion's share of the grain. It quoted Harold B. Waller, president of the Omaha Grain Exchange, as saying there is not enough "free grain coming into Omaha to keep the exchange going."

As a sample of what the Omaha grain market is up against, Waller said that of 299 rail cars of corn received in Omaha last week an estimated 80 per cent or 239 went to the CCC. Only 60 cars were left for free trade on the cash market.

At the rate of $20 profit on a car, which Waller and other grain men agreed was a good figure, the total corn business handled by the axchange would yield approximately $1,200 for the week.

Of 14,988 cars of corn shipped to Omaha in the last six months 80 per cent have gone to the CCC, he added.

Undulant Fever To Be Discussed At York Meeting

YORK, Neb. — Undulant fever will receive major discussion attention at the York Health institute, scheduled for the York city auditorium Thursday.

Dr. S. W. Alford, extension pathologist at the University of Nebraska, will discuss brucellosis. This is the name of the disease as it occurs in animals. A panel discussion will follow with four York people participating. A representative of the local hospital, a veterinarian, a dairy fieldman and a farmer will discuss undulant fever — the disease in humans. The panel also will give their ideas on an eradication program for both undulant fever and brucellosis.

Other topics for the day will include a discussion of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospitalization and medical plans, how schools and communities may use the services of the state health department, a positive approach to understanding children and their problems and school lunch programs. The meeting starts at 8 p. m.

TRUCKER FOUND DEAD IN CABIN

Gas Fumes Blamed; Companion Recovers

(Special to The Star)

SEWARD, Neb. — Frederick P. Abbey, 23-year-old Corning, Ia., truck driver, was found dead from monoxide poisoning Sunday afternoon in a Seward cabin camp, investigating authorities declared.

His companion, Robert Long, 22, also of Corning, was unconscious and was rushed to a Lincoln hospital, where he was reported "doing all right" Monday morning after regaining consciousness.

Seward County Attorney Russell Souchek said the pair stopped at the camp Saturday about 11:30 p. m. They had planned to continue their trip Sunday morning.

Attendants Found Pair.

Camp attendants became alarmed when the truckers failed to leave their cabin by Sunday afternoon. After camp employes were unable to arouse the pair by pounding on the door, they broke into the cabin and then called law officers.

Abbey's death was attributed to monoxide poisoning caused by a gas heater in the cabin which had apparently been set too high, the county attorney said. Long was given artificial respiration before being taken to a Lincoln hospital, Souchek declared.

It is believed that the Iowa truck drivers had taken a load of furniture to the western part of the state and were returning home with their empty truck.

MRS. JOHN T. OSTRANDER.

COLERIDGE—Funeral services were held Sunday, March 5, for Mrs. John T. Ostrander, 80, who died March 3. Surviving are one daughter, Hazel; one son, Donald; one brother, Thomas Noble, Mt. Carroll, Ill., and one granddaughter.

New Week is Launched With Betrothal Announcement

IF THERE WERE JUST SOME WAY we could fox up a "as Monday-goes-so-goes-the-week" idea that would be permanent, we'd be very, very happy —. That is, of course, if all Mondays were as lucrative in the matter of news as this one seems to be. We have a betrothal which will be of interest to town and campus circles—and we have a variety of this and that to stimulate your NA (News Appeal)—

BUT FIRST COMES OUR ENGAGEMENT—

Today Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Caster Westervelt are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Ruth, to Claude William Retherford, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude William Retherford of French Lick Springs, Ind.

The wedding will be an event of Thursday evening, April 27, and the ceremony will be solemnized at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal.

Miss Westervelt attended the the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Mr. Retherford is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

THEN WE HEARD OF AN interesting guest who will arrive in Lincoln on Thursday—He is Georges Boucas of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, who is to be the week-end house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Woods who visited at the home of Mr. Boucas' parents while in South America several months ago.

ON SATURDAY EVENING Mr. and Mrs. Woods will entertain at dinner at their home, complimenting their visitor from Brazil. Out of town guests will include their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Milton F. Petersen, jr., of Omaha, who also will be week-end house guests of Mrs. Petersen's parents.

THE LATEST NEWS from the Barton Greens tells us that Mr. Green still is at St. Joseph hospital, Bellingham, Wash., and that his condition is only mildly improved.

WE HEAR THAT VRONSKY AND BABIN — the duo piano artists who are to appear as Lincoln Symphony association guest stars Tuesday evening are arriving in Lincoln tonight—

The last time Vronsky and Babin played in Lincoln they did their pre-concert practicing at the home of Miss Marguerite Klinker who, as you know, has two magnificent pianos—We're guessing that the two pianists will make Miss Klinker's residence their practice headquarters tomorrow.

SOME VERY INTERESTING guests arrived in Lincoln on Sunday—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gilmore of New Delhi, India, who are the guest guests of Mrs. Gilmore's brother-in-law and sister, Dean and Mrs. Earl S. Fullbrook, and of her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Downs.

Mr. Gilmore, a member of the state department, and first secretary at the American embassy in New Delhi, and Mrs. Gilmore arrived in the States several days ago, but reported first to Washington, D. C. After their vacation in the States they will return agair to New Delhi.

COMPLIMENTING MR. AND MRS. Gilmore, Miss Elva Baxter will be a dinner hostess on Wednesday evening at Hotel Cornhusker when she entertains eighteen guests.

SOMEONE TOLD JS THAT Mrs. James Stuart and Mrs. Lee Rankin will be leaving for Chicago on Wednesday — On Thursday they will be joined by Mr. Stuart and Mr. Rankin who will be returning from a bunsiness trip to New York City — After a week-end in Chicago the foursome will return to Lincoln.

SPEAKING OF CHICAGO—Mrs. Jean R. Kinder is expected to return from there this midweek. Mrs. Kinder has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Bruce Dwinell—and, of course, her granddaughter, Jean Stuart Dwinell.

HEAR THAT OUR TWO Phillips Exeter men — Robert Jeffries Hawke (Tommy for short), and Dan Cook, are leaving the school on the morning of March 22 for their spring holiday. The boys plan to fly to Chicago where they will be met by Dan's father, George B. Cook, and after attending a sport show, planned for Chicago at that time, the trio will return to Lincoln.

AND THAT REMINDS US of Ann Arbor and Herbert W. (Wood) Potter, who is attending law school there. Mr. Potter arrives home for his spring holiday on April 7, just in time for Easter—and returns to Ann Arbor on April 17.

UNDERSTAND THAT Miss Beth Miller and her mother, Mrs. Jesse Miller, left a few days ago for New York City for a few weeks stay—They plan to return home the forepart of April.

LEARNED THAT THE A O Pi's are busy shining up a pin for a future legacy — Katherine Louise Baker, who arrived on Sunday, March 12, at St. Elizabeth hospital. The small Miss Baker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker, and her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Scott Dye. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Baker of Salina, Kas.

WONDERED IF MAYBE THE Lee Metcalfs—Mr. and Mrs.—of Kansas City might be dropping in for a visit soon — Learned that Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf are starting home today from New York City where they have been spending a few days after visiting in Washington, D. C.

• • •

THE BASSINET CLUB seems to be pretty active with its membership cards these days—One was given yesterday—Sunday, March 12—to John William Lynam who arrived at Lincoln General hospital—John William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Lynam, and his mother is the former Carolyn Schwenker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Schwenker. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eather Lynam of Anderson, Ind.

leaders' meeting

A meeting of the Camp Fire Girls and Bluebird leaders will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the First Presbyterian church. Following a report on candy sales by Lester Piper and William Stenten, council fire songs will be led by Mrs. Larry Price.

Folk dance demonstrations will be conducted for the leaders of all groups with Mrs. Max Schuster leading the junior high leaders, accompanied by Mrs. Chester Paul; Mrs. Betty Meyer, the Camp Fire leaders accompanied by Mrs. George Ernst; and Mrs. Frank Glick, the Bluebird leaders.

MRS. HOUGHTON FURR

With only the immediate members of the families and a small group of close friends attending, the marriage of Miss Patricia Guhin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Guhin, to Houghton Furr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Furr, was solemnized on Sunday afternoon in Memorial chapel at St. Paul Methodist church. The lines were read by Dr. Frank Court at 12:30 o'clock.

Miss Virginia Guhin was her sister's only attendant, and the bridegroom's father served him as best man.

For her wedding the bride appeared in a navy blue suit with which she wore pale yellow accessories.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip west, Mr. Furr and his bride will reside at 3315 M street in Lincoln.

Mrs. Furr is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Furr also was graduated from the University of Nebraska, where he is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, and received his degree in law from Harvard university.

COLONIAL VILLAGE

In won't be any time at all, really, before Colonial Village will be moving out to their back gardens and terraces, the badminton sets will be installed for another season, and the village gardners, on a Sunday morning, will be leaning on the back fences exchanging helpful hints, but at the moment all this seems a long way off.

Newcomers to Nebraska's climate have been having a little difficulty out in the village the past week. Robert Tindall returned home Sunday night from a business trip (several weeks ahead of schedule) and greeted his family with the sight of a bandaged arm and shoulder. During his trip, he had climbed out of his car to give the windshield another scrape, slipped on the icy road and broke his collar bone. After a long drive to get home, he was in no condition to lie prone in his bed last night and had to borrow a lawn chair from the Robinsons so he could sit up all night.

Last Tuesday, Mrs. Richard Sanders spent the afternoon nervously chewing her finger nails, convinced that Nebraska was having a hurricane like the two she had experienced at Boston. No one had warned her that Nebraska had good, strong winds most of the spring and summer, and she didn't even appreciate the good black dirt blowing into her house. To make matters worse, Mrs. Sanders' father, William Dakers, of Quincy, Mass., was a week end guest of his son-in-law and daughter. Although he was favorably impressed with Lincoln, he was heard to mutter that it was fortunate Mrs. Dakers didn't accompany him on this trip.

A third villager who tangled with the elements was Mrs. R. P. Nicholson, a native of California, who decided to take a stroll Saturday. We all know what happened—too much ice—and Mrs. Nicholson was painfully escorted home by Cdr. Nicholson who somehow managed to remain on his feet. No broken bones for Mrs. Nicholson, however.

A lot of anniversaries popped up in the village this week. Friday, March 10, was Jimmy Hof's fourteenth birthday so to celebrate the occasion, he was host to ten boys Saturday night at a sort of March camping trip. The refreshments were on hand, of course, but the guests brought their own cots and sleeping bags for a night in the Hof recreation room. There wasn't much sleeping, naturally, but there were a lot of feathers (one of the sleeping bags burst), and when Mrs. Hof investigated a spell of suspicious quiet she was greeted with a burst of squirt-gun fire.

Mrs. Marvin Robinson celebrated her birthday on Thursday and was the guest of honor at dinner when Mr. Robinson was host to a group of neighbors at the University Club. The evening hours were spent most informally at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell where canasta was the excuse for all the noise.

A wedding anniversary on Sunday was the occasion for another neighborhood gathering for canasta at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Rosewell, Sunday evening. The honored couple, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hof, were a bit weary from their son's entertaining the preceding night.

• • •

New neighbors in the village are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Nitz and their children, Jane and Robert, who have recently moved to Lincoln from Yutas, Neb. Still climbing over packing boxes and hanging drapes, life for the Nitz family is further complicated by painters and carpenters making those final last adjustments on a new house. Mrs. Nitz, we understand, is an excellent gardener and has plans in the making for a really ambitious flower garden this spring, and young Robert Nitz, who has a new trombone, may not be accomplished as his mother but he has lots of ambition where his music is concerned.

TOMORROW'S ARTIST WELDON KEES

"The Wall," oil, should be of particular interest to gallery visitors—It is the work of Weldon Kees who was born in Nebraska in 1914. Kees is a painter and a poet, and also has served as art critic for the nation. He had two one-man shows, both at the Peridot Gallery in New York, in November, 1948, and November, 1949. He has exhibited in group shows such as American Abstract Artists, in Riverside Museum, New York, and the Brooklyn Museum International Watercolor Exhibition, both in 1949. Recently he showed at the Whitney Museum Annual, New York, in 1950. Currently he is devoting much of his time to writing, and among other things, is doing scripts for educational motion pictures.

Children's Page

Editor's Note: Once more we begin, in a small way, something for the children. The stories, the poems, the puzzles, will be contributed by the children themselves, and all are welcome.

After four, five or six years of wishful thinking, we're about to launch upon another children's page in The Star.

There will be those—some of them ready for college now—who will remember the children's page of a few years ago. We began as Kiddies Korner, for want of a better name—then had a contest for names—then voted on the title all the children liked best, and that selection was "United Stars."

Just turned back to some of the pages, and thought it might be fun to mention the names of some of the youngsters who took an active part in the United Stars activities—To mention only a few, there were Maxine Miller of Arcadia; Elvira Schnakenberg of Davenport; Dyllis Benson of Upland—Jacqueline Lou Bartels and Milbert Grummert of Plymouth; Jean Buckley of Evanston, Wyo.; Juanita Greenstreet, Milburn; Loyola and Lewis Thelen, Shelby; Maxine Degenfelder, Roberta Goodman, Helen Fuller, Flora Belle Culp, Beverly Amend, Darlene Adams, Lorraine Johnson, Donna Mae Kramer, Sally Sutherland, Marilyn Jo Grossman—all of Lincoln—Betty and Bernie Kosinski of Inglewood, Cal.; Shirley Reisher, Benkelman; Barbara Bangart of Guide Rock—and many, many more — Clyde Meints, for instance, and Robert Slama, Margie Hostetler — and dozens of others.

It is just possible that we might have a line or two from some of the alumni of the United Stars — but today we have new crop of contributors and we proudly present them:

My Hobbies

by

DAVID CALHOUN

I started collecting stamps when I was nine years old. The thing that started me was when I lived in San Francisco a friend of mine collected stamps. Two years ago my mother went to San Francisco. She got me a sack of them. Now I have about 1500. You can get stamps here in Lincoln or you may send away to companies which sell these stamps. Another hobby of mine is pennets. I have 92 of them. I always buy them on vacations. I think hobbies are lots of fun.

STEVEN LEW

When we started for the beach about eleven I was feeling fine. We got to the beach and Mom and Dad and my aunt and uncle all went to take a sun bath. I was with my sister Linda and we were bothering Mom and Dad to go into the water. We finally got to go. I was going to jump a wave and came smack down on my left foot right on the instep. It felt like a shock but then I held my foot up and there was a big cut from one side to the other, the tendons, nerves and arteries were cut by a broken bottle. I went right to the hospital (St. John's) and was in surgery for 5½ hrs. Luckely my aunt had a television set which helped me a lot. When I got home I felt like a dead dog. I was looking at the television every day. I went to a baseball game between the Hollywood Stars and the Oakland Oaks. It was a double header. The Stars lost the first 12 to 4 and won the last. I got to go through the dugout and meet Fred Haney, manager of the Stars. Wednesday, July 14, we went back to Lincoln.

Now we have a story by a young lady who didn't give it a title—but since it has to do with pets as well as a hobby, I think it might be a good idea to call it—

My Pets

by

LINDA de BROWN

I am very interested in horses. My friend has a horse that we ride. I hope to get one sometime with my allowance which I am saving.

I also have a dog. She's a female Golden Retriever. Her name is Debby. I have taught her to roll over, play dead dog, shake hands, sit up, lie down and to fetch. She also is a good watch dog.

In the summer I like to catch butterflys. My mother helped me make a net to catch them in.

Last summer in a vacant lot a boy found some baby rabbits. They were only about two weeks old because they didn't have their eyes open yet. He gave me one to keep. I fed it warm milk from a eye dropper. I had him about a week before he died. I have also tried to raise baby birds, but they have died, too.

I like to paint and sketch and I hope I get a oil paint set for my birthday.

Scottsdale, Arizona

TYCHA FARRENS

I went to Brownmoor School near Scottsdale. They killed a scorpian at school. He had a tail. He was very short and had a very long tail. We climed Camelback Mountain. We climbed the big rocks and we picked flowers. There were many Indians and Mexicans in Scottsdale. I brought home a Mexican doll, pottery, and an Indian doll. We flew in an airplane and there were a lot of children on it. We played and had fun and had lunch. After lunch we watched the pilot drive the plane. We were in the clouds. We rode horses in Arizona too. I would like to live there, because there are so many oranges and sunshine. We played cowboy in the orange groves.

Dear Editor of the Children's Page:

I was thinking the other day what I would like to be when I grow up and what to take when I get to college. I want to be a newspaper woman. Because they have an exciting time sometimes. I want to work in a big city like Lincoln or California. California always has exciting times. People drownded, kill, bang up in cars, oh, it sounds wonderful! Do you ever hear of things like that? You are the first people who find out about things that happen. I wish you would come down and tell me about the Lincoln Star and tell me about what you have to do. If there are any books about newspaper business send me them if you don't have to have them.

Four Undefeated Teams To Clash

NHSAA Pits Unbeaten B, C Teams Wednesday

By DON BRYANT.
(Star Sports Staff Member)

FOUR undefeated teams will tangle in the opening day action of the 1950 Nebraska High School Basketball championships to be held at the University of Nebraska coliseum Wednesday through Saturday.

The NHSAA Board of Control Basketball Committee met in Lincoln Sunday to determine the pairings and the group did a thorough job starting the tourney off with top flight action.

Both Class B and Class C will pit undefeated teams against each other in Wednesday's play.

Omaha Holy Name (18-1), undefeated in Nebraska play although losing to Sioux City, Ia. Catholic, will inaugurate Class B action against Pawnee City (20-0) in the Wednesday starter.

CHADRON VS. ST. JO

At the same time in Class C will open hostilities, with Chadron Prep and St. Joseph's of Atkinson locking horns. Both teams will enter the classic with 24-0 archives.

CLASS B WEDNESDAY.

Omaha Holy Name vs. Pawnee City, 12:30 p. m.
York vs. Albion, 1:50 p. m.
Mitchell vs. Neligh, 7 p. m.
Winner of South Sioux City-Bloomfield vs. Minden, 8:20 p. m
(South Sioux City-Bloomfield play Monday night).

CLASS C. WEDNESDAY.

Chadron Prep vs. St. Joseph's of Atkinson, 12:30 p. m.
Scribner vs. Friend, 1:50 p. m.
Arapahoe vs. Dwight Assumption, 7 p. m
Callaway vs. Waverly, 8:20 p. m.

CLASS A THURSDAY.

Grand Island vs. Boys Town, 12:30 p. m
Loser of Lincoln Northeast-Falls City vs. Scottsbluff, 1:50 p. m.
(Lincoln Northeast-Falls City play Monday).
Hastings vs. Omaha Benson, 7 p. m.
Winner of Northeast-Falls City vs. North Platte, 8:20 p. m.

CLASS D THURSDAY.

Hildreth vs. Hyannis, 12:30 p. m.
Panama vs. Uehling, 1:50 p. m.
Sunol vs. Millard, 7 p. m.
Gresham vs. Glenvil, 8:20 p. m.

In the other B and C tests Wednesday, action will be just as spirited.

Class B action will see York vs. Albion, Mitchell vs. Neligh and the winner of the South Sioux City-Bloomfield game, slated for Monday night at Wayne, will meet Minden.

In Class C, Scribner will meet Friend, Arapahoe will tackle Dwight Assumption and defending champion Waverly will open final defense of its crown against Callaway.

CLASS A. HOT.

Class A and D fans are assured of just as much spirited action when the two classes open their play Thursday.

The first two of the Class A teams to see action are Grand Island and Boys Town, who tangle in the opener. The only other pairing that is definite puts Hastings against Omaha Benson.

The other two spots are on the undetermined list. Scottsbluff will meet the loser of the Lincoln Northeast-Falls City game, scheduled for Monday night, while the winner gets a lower bracket spot against North Platte.

Class D is all set to go to the post.

Defending titleholder Hildreth will swing into action against Hyannis, while Uehling will try to oust Panama in the afternoon games and the Sunol-Millard and Glenvil-Gresham battles will round out the first day's fireworks.

Red Rolfe Is Pleased With Jerry Priddy

. . "Means Difference"

By JACK HAND.

LAKELAND, Fla.—(AP)—Manager Red Rolfe banks on Jerry Priddy, a "take charge guy" who adds new fire to his Detroit Tigers.

"Priddy is the big difference on our club," said Rolfe. "I know Jerry from his days with the Yanks. He's an experienced man, confident and happy to be with us. I think he will give us more aggressiveness."

Detroit has been interested in Priddy for years. They tried to buy him while the Priddy-Rizzuto combination was wowing them at Kansas City years ago. Last December they swung the deal by paying the St. Louis Browns $100,000 and Pitcher Lou Kretlow.

SECOND PROBLEM.

Second base has haunted Detroit managers since Charlie Gehringer hung up his glove. Not that Priddy is any Gehringer—but he is a steady second-baseman with a batting punch.

"First base was another big problem last year," Rolfe said. "Vick Kryhoski did a good job with the Yanks and I'm giving him every chance. He isn't the best, but he can hit a long ball.

"If Kryhoski can't make it, we'll use Don Kolloway, but at first I plan to leave Kryhoski in there against both left and right-handed pitchers. We may have to alternate him with Kolloway.

"Of course, George Kell is our third baseman and Johnny Lipon is still at short stop. We have handy fellows like Connie Berry and Eddy Lake to back up."

GOOD OUTFIELD.

Rolfe, starting his second season as a big league manager, has no outfield problem.

Hoot Evers in left, Johnny Groth in center, Vic Wertz in right form one of the league's best picket lines. Pat Mullin and Charles Keller probably will be the reserves.

"I'm taking it slow with Charlie," said Rolfe. "He says he feels better than last spring. The other day in a squad game he hit a ball over the centerfielder's head. Everybody in baseball is pulling for Charlie."

"Our first line pitching is great," Rolfe said. "We have five good men in Hal Newhouser, Virgil Trucks, Freddie Hutchinson, Art Houtteman and Ted Gray. It's the lack of depth that bothers me.

"Hal White pitched some good ball at Toledo after we sent him out. Paul Trout—that Dizzy—is in good shape. I'm hoping very much for help from Paul Calvert, the fellow we picked up from Washington. He might turn out to be the relief man we needed so badly last season.

"Saul Rogovin, up from Buffalo, has a good record. He might be a starter with some other club, but it will be tough breaking him into our first string. Unless something happens, we'll probably help out on relief early in the season.

"And we have a fellow named Rolfe—he's going to be better. He's had a year to get acquainted with the league again." Rolfe has a unique way of sizing up the league race. He puts Boston and New York in one group and Detroit, Cleveland and Philadelphia in the second.

"Any one of the second group could win it," he said, "if they get hot. And either of the first group could drop down into the second group if they don't start off fast."

Snead Wins Miami Open

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—(INS)—Sam Snead, golfdom's big money winner of the young sports year, was $2,000 richer Monday through his three-stroke triumph in the Miami Beach open tournament.

The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., star carded a one-under-par 71 Sunday in the final round of the $10,000 tourney and wound up with a 72-hole total of 273—15 strokes under par.

The victory raised Snead's 1950 winnings to $10,158.

In second place was veteran Lawson Little of Monterey, Cal., who shot a 68 to finish the four-day grind with 276. Little collected $1,400 for his runner-up effort.

Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Cal., and Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., tied for fourth place with 281's and split the fourth and fifth place money, each man collecting $750.

The leaders, their scores and winnings, follow:

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 71-66-65-71—273, $2,000.
Lawson Little, Monterey, Cal., 71-71-66-68—276, $1,400.
E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, St. Andrews, Ill., 71-71-67-71—280, $1,000.
Henry Ransom, St. Andrews, Ill, 73-70-67-71—281, $750.
Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Cal., 74-70-67-70—281, $750.
Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., 76-68-70-69—283, $458.
Al Brosch, Garden City, N. Y., 77-69-66-71—283, $458.

Deadline Set For Fish Feed Tickets

Interested persons are urged to call 5-4072 for tickets and information.

The dinner will start at 6 p. m. and also features a floor show, movies and dancing.

Fist Committee To Study Safety

OMAHA—(AP)—A national AAU boxing subcommittee is going to study safeguards for amateur boxing, Committee chairman William H. Thomas of Omaha announced here.

He said the committee would be particularly concerned with foam rubber gloves, foam rubber padding for rings and boxing headgear.

The committee will make a preliminary report at the national boxing committee meeting at Boston during the national boxing championships in there April 10-12, Thomas said. A final report will be made when the national committee meets in Washington in December.

GAMES TONIGHT.
Class A Finals at Fairbury.
Northeast vs. Falls City.

By JIM MILLER.
(Star Sports Staff Member)

Defending Class A king Northeast will be the lone Lincoln entry in the state high school basketball championships which get underway Wednesday afternoon at the University of Nebraska coliseum.

The Rockets gained a state berth with one win—44-28 over Beatrice Saturday night at the Fairbury "A" gathering—and will play Falls City Monday night in the finals.

Falls City also earned a spot in the select eight by upsetting Lincoln, 28-27, Thursday night and thumping Fairbury, 35-24, Saturday.

LINKS FINISH.

Grand Island, Omaha Benson, Boys Town, North Platte, Scottsbluff and Hastings are the other Class A schools represented in the state meet.

During the regular season, Northeast defeated G. I., 35-29; Boys Town, 71-51; North Platte, 58-40, and Hastings, 58-30, but lost an opening season encounter to Scottsbluff, 33-32.

Coach Lyle Weyand's Lincoln Links closed the books on one of the blackest years in LHS annals Thursday night when they were toppled by Falls City. It was the ninth loss as compared to eight wins for the season.

The Capital City's smaller schools also had tourney hopes smashed.

Teachers, possessors of a 13-3 season record, was handed a 40-38 setback in a first round game at the York Class B carnival by Geneva.

C. V. COMES CLOSE.

College View fared better at Auburn by winning two tilts before bowing to undefeated Pawnee City, 46-40, in the Class B finals. The Southsiders hacked the host school, 88-41, in the first round, and gained revenge over Eastern Nebraska Seven rival Plattsmouth in the second test, 39-38, before meeting the powerful Indians.

Cathedral fell by the wayside earlier in Class C milling at Syracuse but gained consolation honors there by topping the hosts, 33-28. In the first round, the Bluebirds downed Valparaiso, 44-41, but were hit by Peru Prep, 45-33, in the next outing.

Training Camp Briefs

YANKS WIN, 7-1.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Three New York Yankee pitchers, Eddie Lopat, Hugh Radcliffe and Duane Pillette, held the St. Louis Cardinals to two hits Sunday as the world champions gained their second straight victory over the Redbirds, 7-1.

Two passes by Radcliffe, rookie right-hander, and two successive outs gave the Cards their only tally of the game in the fifth.

SOX BUMP PHILS.

SARASOTA, Fla.—(AP)—Mel Parnell, ace Boston lefthander, twirled five fine innings Sunday as the Red Sox shut out the Philadelphia Phillies 3-0. It was the second successive Grapefruit circuit victory of the Bostonians.

REDS EDGE TIGERS.

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—Outfielder Johnny Wyrostek of the Cincinnati Reds slammed out three homers Sunday to help sink the Detroit Tigers 10-8 in an exhibition game here before 4,483 fans.

BROOKS BEAT BRAVES.

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Brooklyn's National league champions surged for seven runs in the eighth inning and a 16-11 victory over the Boston Braves Sunday in an exhibition baseball game witnessed by 15,114 fans in Miami's new, ultra-modern stadium.

Warren Spahn, the National league's winningest pitcher in 1949, set down the first six Brooklyn batters, but then was rapped for a cluster of five runs.

A'S NIP NATS.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics choked off a ninth-inning uprising by the Washington Senators Sunday to sweep the two-game exhibition series with the Nats, 8-7.

Catcher Joe Astroth, with two singles and a double, drove in three A's runs to earn the victory for Phil Marchildon, first of three Mackian hurlers.

KINER PACES PIRATES.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—(AP)—Ralph Kiner smashed out a 10th inning homer, his second of the game, to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 win over the St. Louis Browns in an exhibition game Sunday.

The win was the second in as many days for the Bucs over the Brownies who rallied in the ninth for two runs to tie the game at 4-4.

DIMAG SIDELINED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio sat out the New York Yankees' exhibition baseball game with the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday because of a blistered heel, but Yankee Manager Casey Stengel said "it's nothing serious."

The blister is one the right heel, which gave the slugging outfielder so much trouble last spring. Stengel described it as just an ordinary blister of the kind often caused by baseball shoes early in the season.

Doctors said DiMaggio probably would be back in action in two days.

BYRNE SIGNS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla—(AP)—Tommy Byrne, erratic lefthander, signed his 1950 New York Yankee contract Sunday for an estimated $17,000.

Byrne's signing left third baseman Bobby Brown as the lone Yankee holdout.

Byrne won 15 games, lost seven and compiled a 3.72 earned run average last year.

INDIANS BLAST GIANTS.

PHOENIX, Ariz—(AP)—With a salvo of 17 hits, including three home runs, the American league Cleveland Indians Sunday battered the National league New York Giants into defeat, 18-6, to square their two-game exhibition series.

Biggest influence in the Indian uprising was the first base rookie, Herb Conyers, who exploded one of the homers with two mates on base and hammered in six runs.

CHISOX WHIP CUBS.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Hank Majeski's three run homer in the sixth was the big blow Sunday in the Chicago White Sox' 7-2 triumph over the Cubs—the Sox second successive win over their northside rivals.

Your Host To Race In East

ARCADIA, Cal.—(INS)—Your Host, California's first solid Kentucky Derby prospect since Morvich won the classic in 1922, rolled eastward Monday for a crack at the turf's triple crown—the Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes.

If he maintains the form he showed in winning the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby and two other stake races at Santa Aita the swift chestnut colt also will run in several other events in the east. Plans for him include the Dwyer, the Arlington Classic and the Washington Derby.

The three-year-old son of Alibhai and Boudoir II left Santa Anita Sunday via rail. He is being shipped by way of New Orleans to avoid the high altitudes and is due in Churchill Downs on Wednesday.

Your Host is owned by Film Producer William Goetz. The colt is regarded by many as the best horse ever bred in California. He will be ridden in his eastern campaign by Johnny Longden, three times the nation's champion jockey.

One of Bill Goodman's singles for the Red Sox last season became lodged in Eddie Joost's shirt. The ball rolled up the shortstop's sleeve.

BRAVES' ROOKIE—Sam Jethroe (left), who is getting his first chance in the big leagues this year, is making his bid for an outfield berth with the Boston Braves. Billy Southworth (right), Braves manager, paid a high price to land him. A speedster like Jethroe, who stole 89 bases for Montreal last season to set an International league record, fits nicely into Southworth's plans. Big 7 Is Tightest In Years

Only Iowa State Below .500 As Crown Is Split

BASKETBALL in the Big Seven ended last week and more quints are claiming the title each year.

Kansas, Kansas State and Nebraska ended in a three-way tie for first position after Saturday night action; and last season, the Huskers and Oklahoma shared the loop spoils.

Aside from purchasing more white sweaters, which indicate a conference champion, the Big Seven cage picture also presented one of the most evenly-matched fields in history.

ONLY I. S. UNDER .500.

Counting total season games, only Iowa State finished below the .500 mark. The Cyclones ended with a 6-17 showing but at that came through to give league leaders some rough evenings.

The conference squads finished with an even split against Big Ten teams, winning six and losing six. They rolled over Southwest foes with 11 wins in 12 tries, and were nosed out by the Missouri Valley loop, which includes such stalwarts as Bradley, St. Louis and Oklahoma A. & M., with four wins and five setbacks.

	Big Seven			All Games

Iowa State	2	10	.167	628	810	6	17	.261

Coach Harry Good's Cornhuskers achieved 16 wins and dropped seven during the season.

But next year doesn't look too bright. Missing will be all-conference Center Bus Whitehead, Bob Cerv, Joe Malacek, Anton Lawry, Bob Gates, Henry Cech, Joe Brown and Larry Walsh.

PIERCE, BUCK BACK.

That means big Bob Pierce and Guard Jim Buchanan will have to shoulder the load—at least from observation this season.

Pierce proved he can stay with the best of them in under-basket activity and defensive maneuvers. He was high-point man in the Huskers' final game at Kansas State Saturday and knows how to hustle.

Buchanan has mastered long shots pretty well and probably will be the "quarterback" next season.

The other men back are Norm Wilnes, Andy Bunten and Darrell Brandenburg.

Promising prospects from the B team include Jess Sell, Paul Kipper, Bernie and Ed Akronis and Mel Schneider. Coach Neal Mehring's quint finished the season with 12 wins and three losses.

KANSAS TOUTED.

Freshmen who are ticketed for varsity play are Joe Good and Gus Lebsock, former teammates at Lincoln high; Bobby Reynolds, all-sports whiz from Grand Island; Graves Holloway, Alexandria, La., center who has played a year with Louisiana State, and Jim Snyder, Winchester, Ind.

Coach Phog Allen's smooth sophomore squad at Kansas already has been touted as the team to beat next term. The Jayhawkers, conference NCAA representatives this year, will be sparked by Colossal Clyde Lovellette at center. The Terre Haute, Ind., giant found the KU air "agreeable to his asthma" and went on to rewrite the Big Seven scoring books.

Oregon Series Set

Nebraska's football team will play the University of Oregon in Lincoln, Sept. 19, 1953, Athletic Director Potsy Clark announced today.

The Cornhuskers go to Eugene in 1952 for a game with the Webfeet on Sept. 27.

The home-and-home pact marks the first time University of Nebraska and University of Oregon have met on the football field.

Metz, Hawvers Start AAU Play Thursday

OMAHA—(AP)—Midwest AAU basketball teams will begin tournament play in Norfolk Thursday for the right to compete in the national tournament in Denver.

Pairings for the Norfolk playoffs, as announced by state AAU Director William H. Thomas include:

Thursday pairings:

5:30 p. m.—Omaha Harvey's vs. Hawver Cafe of Lincoln.

7:30 p. m.—Jamcos of Sioux City, Ia., vs. Herb's of Norfolk.

8:30 p. m.—Offutt Field vs. Wayne, Neb., Creamery.

10 p. m.—Metz Service vs. Kingsley, Ia.

LINCODN DEAF WINS.

The Lincoln Deaf bowling team outscored Omaha Deaf Sunday, 2496 to 2294, in Lincoln.

R. Lindberg paced the winners with a 538 while O. Truke sparked the Omahans with 500.

FRED HESS, JR.

Fred Hess Honored

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(AP)—Fred Hess, jr., of Nebraska Wesleyan university, was named among the outstanding sports publicity directors of the country to be honored by the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball at an awards luncheon Monday. Hess was cited for outstanding work in the field of sports publicity.

Young Rookie Improves With Two Seasons

RIVERSIDE, Cal.—(INS)—Two years of on-the-job training have made Roy Smalley of the Chicago Cubs a major league shortstop.

Smalley has come a long way since 1948 when he first became a regular at the age of 22 and with only one complete season in organized baseball behind him.

The lanky Springfield, Mo., youngster is no Marty Marion yet, but he is improving steadily both afield and at bat. He is confident this will be his best season since joining the Cubs.

It is no secret that Smalley was not ready for the major leagues when the Chicago Cubs told him the shortstop job was his. He was an outstanding prospect but was very much in need of minor league experience. He gained that experience the hard way, making mistakes and learning by them in a league where mistakes are rarely condoned.

MIXED RECEPTION.

The fans in Chicago received him with a mixture of cheers and boos. On one play Smalley would look like a million-dollar shortstop on a 10-cent, last place team. On the next play he would look like he was example number one why the Cubs were in last place.

He earned a reputation of being able to make the sensational catches but of having trouble with the ordinary grounders. Still the Cub management left him at shortstop. They had liked his hustle since they had first stolen him away from Brooklyn.

K. State Coach Protests Choice

. . . OF KU IN NCAA PLAYOFF

MANHATTAN, Kas.—(AP)—Kansas State college pressed its demands Monday for a berth in the fifth district NCAA playoff.

The University of Kansas was named as the Big Seven's representative in the playoff Saturday after Kansas, Kansas State and Nebraska wound up in a three-way tie for the conference title.

GARDNER PROTESTS.

The selection of Kansas immediately brought a vigorous protest from Kansas State Coach Jack Gardner. He called it a gross injustice and said his team's record was by far the best.

A three-man district NCAA selection committee made the choice.

The Big Seven representative will meet Bradley, Missouri Valley conference titlist, in the playoff here March 20.

Gardner, the Kansas State student body, alumni and even President Milton Eisenhower all protested the selection of Kansas to the committee and to Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, national chairman of the NCAA tournament committee.

JAYS FINISHED STRONG.

Both Kansas State (17-7) and Nebraska (16-7) finished with a better season record than Kansas (14-10), but the fifth district committee said it chose Coach Phog Allen's Jayhawks because of a stronger finish in the conference.

Bruce Drake, Oklahoma basketball coach, is chairman of the committee. Other members are C. E. McBride, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, and Commissioner A. E. Eilers of the Missouri Valley conference.

In Saturday night's windup of the Big Seven race, Kansas State whipped Nebraska, 63-60, at Manhattan, Kas., and Oklahoma beat Kansas, 52-49, in overtime at Norman, Okla.

Missouri (4-8) defeated Colorado (6-6) at Columbia, 53-49, in the remaining conference game.

The Kansas State coach demanded the committee "either reconsider its selection to rectify this gross injustice or resign and place the matter in the hands of the NCAA."

Gardner also was peeved because he couldn't reach Drake by telephone. Drake was reported "out of town for about five days."

Eilers, who met wtih Drake at Norman after the Saturday Kansas-Oklahoma game, was reported "somewhere in Oklahoma. . . . Due back in St. Louis late Monday."

McBride commented: "Mr. Drake will speak for the committee."

Lonborg, Northwestern university basketball coach and newly appointed athletic director at the University of Kansas, was reached by Gardner at Chicago.

Lonborg said he would talk with the committee about the matter, Gardner said.

Big 10 Stars Win Relays

. . . Illinois Tech

CHICAGO—(AP)—Four recently crowned Big Ten indoor track champions collected more honors with winning performances in the Illinois Tech relays Saturday night.

Pole Vaulter Don Laz of Illinois led the group by clearing 14 feet 3⅜ inches, his second record championship leap within a week.

Northwestern's Jim Holland took the Tech broad jump ribbon with a leap of 23 feet 8½ inches. Russ Merkel of Iowa, who won both hurdle races in the Big Ten, repeated as a double winner with :08.7 in the 70-yard highs and :08 in the lows.

The fourth Big Ten star, sophomore Don McEwen of Michigan, who won the conference two-mile crown, also took the Tech one-mile title. However, his time of 4:19.3 was disappointing.

Marcellus Boston of Iowa won the 70-yard dash in :07.1 and Jim Lavery of Drake took the 440-yard dash in :49.6.

Bradley '5' Is Favored

. . . Over Syracuse

NEW YORK—(AP)—Powered by a sparkling Mutt and Jeff combination, topseeded Bradley takes on upset-minded Syracuse Monday night in its opening bid for the National Invitation Basketball title.

The Peoria, Ill., Braves rate as five-point favorites over the Orange quintet that blasted heavily-favored Long Island U., 80-52, Saturday.

On the line again for Bradley will be slender Paul Unruh and junior-size Gene Melchiorre, who pulled the Braves into the semi-finals of the same tournament last March.

All-America Unruh and his partner will lead a racehorse attack against a club that uses the same tactics and has an edge in height.

HEIGHT NO FACTOR.

However, lack of height hasn't bothered Bradley too much so far—the Braves have a 27-3 record and finished No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll.

St. John's, although seeded fourth, is an underdog against unseeded Western Kentucky in the evening's second quarter-final contest.

Sentiment has shifted to the towering bluegrass sprinters following Bob Lavoy's 32-point burst in Saturday's victory over Niagara.

St. John's bases its hopes on a tight defense to slow down Western's blasters. Western is not a great defensive club—a shortcoming which may prove fatal against the scrappy Brooklyn five.

Coach Nat Holman of CCNY, which overpowered San Francisco Saturday and plays second-seeded Kentucky Tuesday night, picks Western to take St. John's. He believes a 10-day layoff has hurt the Metropolitan club.

Another coach, John (Taps) Gallagher of Niagara, picks Syracuse over Bradley. Gallagher's team lost to the Hilltoppers Saturday.

LaSalle, victor over Arizona, meets third-seeded Duquesne in the other quarter-final match Tuesday night.

Schayes Scores 1000th As Nats Defeat Celtics

(By the Associated Press)

Adolph Schuyes of the Syracuse Nationals is the newest paid-up member of the exclusive "1,000 point club" in the National Basketball association.

The former New York university star boosted his season's point total to a round thousand scoring 21 Sunday night in the Nats' 96-72 victory over the Boston Celtics.

He is the fifth to achieve that altitude in the figures column. Others are George Mikan of Minneapolis, the leading scorer; Alex Groza of Indianapolis, Max Zaslofsky of Chicago and Frank Brian of Anderson.

Schayes, a six-foot-seven center, was the fifth highest scorer last year in the National league.

Syracuse, having clinched first in the Eastern division, needs only one victory in its remaining four games to clinch the over-all championship of the league. The title, however, is decided in the post-season playoffs.

The other divisional races remain red-hot. The Indianapolis Olympians climbed into a tie with Anderson for first place in the Western standings by easing the Waterloo, 90-89. Anderson was idle.

The Minneapolis Lakers, with Mikan hitting for 32 points, held their central division advantage by defeating the New York Knickerbockers, 87-66.

Second place Rochester, trailing by a game and a half, turned back the St. Louis Bombers, 99-72. Rookie forward Frank (Pep) Sual, with 16 points, led the Royals to their 12th straight triumph.

In other games, the Fort Wayne Pistons tripped Baltimore 86-75; the Chicago Stags won other Philadelphia, 73-67.

M. Bahr Paces Fem Keglers

OMAHA—(AP)—Mary Bahr of Grand Island today held the No. 1 spot at mid-way point in singles competition in the women's state bowling tournament. The tourney continues two more week ends.

The Grand Island veteran captured the lead from Elleen Seiman of Ainsworth, who topped the field after Saturday night's round. Miss Bahr had a 634 total when competition ended last night.

In Booster team playing, Texaco Bulk of Lexington held onto first place with a 2,367 total. Goetzer of Omaha continued to show superiority among regular teams with a 2,581 total.

Omaha Hurler To Join Card Bat Drill Flingers

OMAHA—(AP)—Carl Wollgast, who is assigned to the Omaha Cardinals, has been ordered to report to St. Petersburg, Fla., to assist as a batting practice pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Wollgast, who managed and hurled for Geneva, Ala., last year, won 23 and lost 7. He is expected to join the Omaha clubs at Albany, Ga., in a week or ten days.

Lincoln Area Is Rated As Metropolitan

51 Cities Added To Federal Designation

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Lincoln, Neb., was among 51 more "metropolitan areas" over the nation which were defined today. The territory Lincoln embraces was listed as Lancaster county.

This means designation of the territory considered to lie in each metropolitan area. Some 87 areas had been outlined last spring. Still others are to be added "in the near future."

Government data on population, industry and trade, payrolls and current labor data, and local labor market analysis, all will be presented separately for the designated areas as a unit.

Integrated Unit.

The budget bureau, in listing the new metropolitan areas, noted that each "consists of one or more entire counties" except in New England, where towns are the basic unit for statistical compilations.

"The general concept of the metropolitan areas is one of an integrated economic unit with a large volume of local daily travel and communication between the central city and outlying parts of the area," the bureau explained.

"This results in an area considerably more restricted, especially for the larger cities, than the market or trading area."

Others among the 51 newly defined areas and the territories they embrace are Cedar Rapids area, Linn county, Iowa; Des Moines area, Polk county, Iowa, and Sioux City area, Woodbury county, Iowa.

Jacob Scharton, Retired Carpenter, Dies At Home Here

Jacob Scharton, 74, retired carpenter and cement finisher, died Sunday at his home, 645 B street.

Understanding Robber Returns Part Of Loot To His 'Broke' Victim

DETROIT — (AP) — The young bandit who held up Gus Lakas' little grocery store last night found just $3 in the cash register.

He took the money out, then handed a dollar bill back to Lakas.

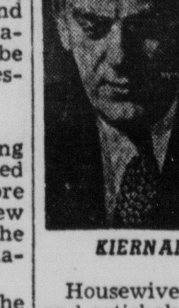
"You're about as poor as I am," the youth said, and fled.

One Man's Opinion

BY WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Serv.)

Original paintings go on sale in a New Jersey super-market this week . . . This is a wonderful opportunity for artists to get a little closer to groceries.



KIERNAN

It's a straight sales idea, but later on a tie-in idea might be worked out . . . say a Van Gogh with every so many Van Camps.

Housewives like the idea of art and artichokes under one roof . . . Most are kept so busy by the old man they have no time for the old masters.

But it will sound funny to hear a woman say. "I'm going to give up my butcher . . . We quarreled over Dali."

Husbands are not so hot on the idea . . . I heard one fellow say, "I'll pay for meatballs but not murals."

Of course the women have their little ways of touching up the grocery bill . . . There will be many a partridge on the wall paid for as pot roast on the table.

But what I want to know is how can an art critic be objective about a painting that's hung near the limburger?

2 Escape Injury As Cars Collide

Two Lincolnites narrowly escaped serious injury in a two-car collision at Sixty-third and Kearney streets shortly after 11 a. m. Monday.

The cars, driven by Darrell Meyer, 18, 5642 Leighton, and John Wiebe, jr., 45, 2117 Eucild, came together in the middle of the intersection and both ended up in a ditch with Meyer's car nose down and Wiebe's car on its side.

The front of Meyer's car and the right side of Wiebe's car were smashed. Neither driver was injured.

Okays Bond Issue

GERING, Neb. — (AP) — A proposal for submitting a $30,000 bond issue to the voters has been approved by the Gering chamber of commerce. The money would be used to improve stadium facilities at Oregon trail park. Supporters of the proposal claim better facilities are necessary for Junior American Legion baseball and Oregon trail day programs.

Lincoln Youths Are Questioned In Two Thefts

Two groups of Lincoln youths, ranging in age from 14 to 18, were being questioned by the county attorney's office Monday in connection with separate thefts.

One group of 17 and 18-year-old high school boys was questioned regarding theft of two cases of beer from a store at 1725 O street Thursday afternoon.

According to police records, two boys entered and took the beer and then passed it outside to three other boys who in turn put it in the car in which the remaining two boys were sitting. Some of the youth later attended a basketball game.

Five youths were questioned in regard to theft of $48 in merchandise from a truck owned by the Schnieber Grocery Distributing company Sunday. Two of the boys were 14, two were 15, and one 18.

The theft was reported by Louis Fetters, 2605 Randolph, an employe of the company. The truck was parked near his home.

Some of the boys questioned Monday were referred to the juvenile probation officer. In theft cases, youths under 18 are prosecuted in juvenile court, those 18 and over in Municipal court.

Novelist Heinrich Mann Dies; Brother Of Nobel Prize-Winning Writer

SANTA MONICA, Cal. —(INS)—Funeral services are to be held tomorrow morning for Heinrich Ludwig Mann, novelist brother of the Nobel Prize-winning writer, Thomas Mann.

His writings included 16 novels. The Mann brothers fled nazi Germany in 1940.

Deed Calls For City To Establish Rogers Memorial

The city of Lincoln is bound to establish a "suitable memorial" to George Hippee Rogers on the Rogers tract, under the terms of the deed transferring ownership from Mrs. Margaret H. Rogers to the city.

The deed specifies that the memorial may be a small park or playground, a boulevard or road, or any other form of memorial to be decided upon by the city after a study of plans for the tract has been completed.

Mrs. Rogers received $65,000 for the 49-acre tract. Frank H. Woods donated the $65,000 for purchase of the tract.

Contemporary Paintings Are Discussed At Art Lecture

An informal discussion on contemporary paintings was conducted at Sunday's gallery lecture at Morrill hall by Kady Faulkner, of the University of Nebraska art department, and Col. H. F. Cunningham, Lincoln architect.

The discussion was held in connection with the Nebraska Art association's sixtieth exhibition of contemporary and European art.

Miss Faulkner pointed out that art is aimed at people who are ready to receive it. If people cannot understand art, they reject it she said. There is a lot of bad art and literature, she admitted, but that does not mean that it should all be rejected. It must be examined, she said, with an open, searching mind.

Not To Entertain.

Art, primarily, she said, it not meant to entertain. The purpose of the artist is to convey an idea to people.

Col. Cunningham stated that he would not own a picture if he knew and understood everything about it the first week he had it. Part of the pleasure of having a good painting, he said, is finding something new in it every day.

He pointed out the draftsmanship, color, composition and design of the painting are the fundamental things to look for.

Both he and Miss Faulkner agreed that color makes the difference between the life and death of a picture. The color does not have to be realistic, they said, but it must present a picture or convey an idea.

The discussion was centered around seven pictures, Charles Sheeler's "Building at Lebanon," Max Kahn's "Blackbirds," Robert Gwathmey's "Flower Vendors," Kenneth Callahan's "The Search," Xavier Gonzales's "Seaport," Edward John Stevens's "Sea Episode" and Channing Hare's "Monntfort Coolidge." The collection included oil paintings, water colorings, drawings and woodcuts.

About two hundred attended the lecture.

Wind Story To Beat All Others; Car Takes Flight

A "big wind" story to put others to shame—the tale of an automobile that took wings—came into The Star news room Monday from Roy C. Scott, 57, 1023 H street.

Scott was driving near Sixth and South about 6 p. m., Tuesday evening when the gale was at its strongest. The story, in his own words:

"As I made the turn south onto Park boulevard . . . my coupe with a 'woosch' skidded broad side . . . 50 feet, the tires screaming in the crushed rock parking lot . . ."

"The front end came up, blocking all vision ahead. For the next second or two I thought I had come to a stop. There was no feeling of movement, but then (I) felt the rear bounding over rough ground. A nasty feeling.

"The next thing I knew, to my amazement the front end came down and (the car was speeding through the grass and weeds some 200 feet south between the pavement and the state material yard . . ."

"I skidded to a stop in front of a gate about one block south of take-off."

"A terrific suction from around the Gooch mill picked the car up like a feather."

Scott was uninjured and the car not damaged.

"After looking over the ground the following day I have a feeling the stunt (was) not too safe."

Omaha Woman Dies Of Burns

. . . Found By Stove

OMAHA—(AP)—Rachael Walker, about 70, died at her home Sunday of burns.

Firemen found her lying in front of a coal stove in her rooms. They said most of her clothes had been burned from her body. Herman Gernandt, battalion chief, said the elderly woman apparently had been poking the fire in the stove with a broomstick when sparks ignited her dress. The broomstick was found by the stove. The department was called when a neighbor smelled smoke. The flames did not spread to the rest of the house.

City Property Damage By Big Wind Is $4,800

The gale that whipped Lincoln alst Tuesday kicked about $4,800 worth of holes in city property.

Erickson said about $2,000 damage was done to city light department equipment. The park department suffered a loss of $720.

To airport property, there was $1,025 damage to the roof of a national guard building, and about $725 damage to a navy building at the base. Damage to street department equipment, Erickson said, was largely in loss of street waste paper cans.

In addition to this, he estimated that 1,000 trees were damaged in the city south of O street.

Danish Existentialist Discussed At Meeting Of Lincoln Ministers

The doctrines of the Danish existentialist, Soren Kierkegaarde, were described to the Lincoln Ministerial association luncheon Monday by Dr. Bruce Waters, visiting professor of philosophy at the University of Nebraska.

Kierkegaarde, whose writings are the source of the modern existentialist movement, "explored the playground of the absurd," the Ohio State university professor said.

Rev. William Paul Barnds, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, was program chairman.

Pre-Fab Housing Draws Opposition

Opposition has developed in Lincoln to pre-fabricated housing.

Appearing before the city council Monday in protest to some pre-fab construction work being done near his home was Jack Lowe, 1734 South Cotner boulevard. The pre-fabs, he said, will hurt the value of his and his neighbors' property.

City Attorney John Jacobson told the council he has received some protests. The only remedy for the situation, he added, is repeal of the ordinance which permits their construction.

Jacobson also pointed out that when property is equalized next summer, property owners who have had pre-fabs built in their neighborhoods will want a reduction in the assessed valuation of their property.

Irrigation Clinic At York This Week

YORK, Neb.—Clay, Hamilton, Fillmore, Seward, Saline, Polk, Thayer, Nuckolls and York counties will be represented here Wednesday at the third annual irrigation clinic for east-central Nebraska.

John Schrunk, professor of soil and water at the University of Nebraska, will make a report on wells he tested and observed in York county last summer.

Speaking on ground water resources of eastern Nebraska will be E. C. Reed of the University of Nebraska's survey and conservation staff.

Everett Beachler, Ezra Kramer, both of Hamilton county, Harold Briggs of Clay county, and three York farmers will participate in a panel discussion.

J. C. Adams, North Platte, will bring a message on irrigated pastures. Other speakers will be John Doell, York county farmer, Edgar Thompson, J. A. Mast, and Ernest Tempel.

Stocks Slow; Prices Slip

The volume of business contracted to a rate of around 1,100,000 shares.

Losses throughout the list were not impressive running to fractions generally but in some cases as much as a point.

Radio-TV shares pushed forward early in the day before turning back into a mixed pattern.

BUYING A NEW CAR?
YOU CAN FINANCE IT WITH THE NEW N.B.C. "BLANK CHECK PLAN!"
YES THAT'S RIGHT! You can get a "blank check" for two-thirds of the purchase price of any new car you want to buy. We give you the blank check in advance. Then you buy your car anywhere, any make, any model, any dealer you like. You pay for your new car with your "blank-check" just as you would pay for it with cash! -5

Another Round Won By Sander

State Medical Society Declines To Act Against Acquitted Young Doctor

MANCHESTER, N. H. —(AP)— Dr. Hermann N. Sander had crossed another hurdle today in his fight to return to his country doctor practice.

The New Hampshire medical society refused yesterday to take disciplinary action against the young physician and left any such action to the Hillsborough County Medical society.

A spokesman also reported that the state society did not plan to make any recommendations to the state board of registration in medicine, which alone has the right to revoke or suspend a medical license.

Date Will Be Set.

The board planned to meet today to set a date for a formal hearing for the 41-year-old Candia doctor acquitted last week of murder in the death of Mrs. Abbie Borroto, a cancer patient.

Two members of the five-man registration board were among 30 delegates and alternates of the state society's house of delegates which debated the Sander case behind closed doors for three hours yesterday.

They were Drs. Paul J. Dye of Wolfeboro and Reginald K. House of Hanover. Neither had any comment.

The state society condemned mercy killing, or euthanasia, in strong terms. In its disapproval it included "any process for relieving suffering by the deliberate termination of life."

Dr. Sander was not available for comment on the society's statement. He and his wife are reported on "a southern trip" and not expected home for three weeks.

Five Beliefs Of Christian Life Outlined

. . . By Bishop Dawson

Five basic beliefs of a Christian life were told to more than a thousand persons here Sunday night by Bishop Dana Dawson of the Methodist church.

"These beliefs make melody in the hearts of man with the Lord," Bishop Dawson said. He is bishop of the Kansas-Nebraska area of the church. The sermon was delivered at one of a series of Lenten services at St. Paul Methodist church.

The five principles Bishop Dawson outlined were:

1. A belief in God as the creator and directing force of the world.

2. A belief in the divinity of Christ.

3. A belief in the inspiration of the Bible.

4. A belief in a life hereafter.

5. A belief in love as the greatest driving force in the world.

These beliefs, he continued, lead to Christian optimism. The church has suffered much, he said, because so many preachers have been ministers of woe. The church of Christ, he said, should be a garden, not a graveyard. Christ, he concluded, was a humorist, not a pessimist.

"The problems of war, disease, food and famine are not the problems of God," he said, "but are the problems of man, who is too selfish to share what he has."

$15,489 Suit Results From Two-Car Crash

Charles E. Walek, 217 North Twenty-third, is named defendant in a $15,489 personal injury and car damage suit filed in District court by Louis Neiden.

Shirley Temple Returns From Hawaiian Vacation

HOLLYWOOD —(INS)— Shirley Temple is back in Hollywood today, ready to go to work again, after a month-and-a-half Hawaiian vacation.

The acress scoffed at reports of a romance between her and Charles Black, 31-year-old Hawaiian pineapple company executive who was her escort in the islands.

Mrs. J. B. Madison Dies At Hospital

Mrs. Rosalie Madison, 54, 1400 Garfield, died Sunday at a local hospital.

A former pastry cook at the Lincoln hotel, she had lived in Lincoln 11 years. Prior to coming to Lincoln, she lived in Columbus.

Surviving are her husband, Jacques B.; two sisters, Mrs. Audria Yates and Mrs. Flora Yates, both of Herrin, Ill.; two brothers, Perry Akins, West Frankfort, Ill., and Herman Akins, Herrin.

Body will be taken to Herrin Tuesday for funeral services and burial.

Mrs. L. Schureman, Longtime Resident Of Lincoln, Dies

Mrs. Kate Schureman, Lincoln resident for more than 70 years, died Sunday.

She was the widow of Lee Schureman and the daughter of the late John H. McClay, clerk of the United States District court here and a sister of the late W. L. McClay, former Lincoln postmaster.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Fay I. Lapp, Lincoln; a niece, Mrs. H. H. Schmidt, Omaha, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Wilma McClay, Lincoln.

Services will be held Tuesday, 2 p. m., Roberts chapel, with Dr. W. Paul Barnds officiating. Private burial will be at Wyuka.

Courtesy Gardenia—The courtesy campaign's gardenia for Monday has been awarded to Mary Ann Schwabauer, 2749 Arlington. Miss Schwabauer is a Lincoln high school student and president of the Y-teen club. She was awarded the gardenia for "acts of thoughtfulness, both within and without the Y-teen club."

Belgians, By Narrow Margin, Vote In Favor Ending Exile Of King Leopold Referendum Is Advisory Only; Parliament Must Decide

BRUSSELLS — (AP) — Belgians voted by a narrow majority yesterday in favor of restoring King Leopold to the throne from which he has been barred for surrendering to the Germans in World war II.

But the slim margin of approval —57 per cent-threatened to touch off a political crisis if pro-Leopoldists actually tried to bring the handsome monarch back from exile.

LEOPOLD II . . . 57 per cent of voters want him restored to throne.

A key question was whether the liberals would join the pro-Leopoldist social Christians (Catholics) in asking parliament to rescind its ban on the king's return from exile in Switzerland.

The referendum yesterday was only an advisory vote. Parliament still must decide if Leopold may come back.

Also to be determined was whether the monarch would return if asked, or whether he would abdicate. He had said he would abdicate if he got less than 55 per cent of the vote.

Belgium voted this way:

Yes (For Leopold's return) 2,933,382.

No (Against his return) 2,151,881.

There were 151,477 ballots declared invalid.

The interior ministry said the king had carried 21 of the country's 30 districts and seven of its nine provinces.

These final official returns gave Leopold 57.68 per cent of the valid ballots.

The liberals have said they would not accept the king again if he did not get a majority in each of the county's three parts—Flanders in the north, Brabant in the center and Walloon in the south. Political observers were not sure, however, the liberals would stand by this statement.

Leopold has been Belgium's political storm center since he surrendered to the Germans in 1940 and then refused to follow his government-in-exile to London.

Interned by the nazis in Germany and liberated by the U. S. army in 1945, the king has been in exile in Switzerland.

The Belgian parliament in 1945 voted to continue the regency of his brother, Prince Charles, and to bar Leopold's return to the throne until parliament should consent.

Boy Injured In Lincoln's First Sledding Mishap

Perry Morton, jr., 10, 2914 Georgian court, was injured Friday afternoon when he was struck by a car between Twenty-ninth and Thirty-first on Georgian court while riding a sled. It was Lincoln's first sledding injury of the year.

According to police reports, Perry and another 10-year-old were sledding down the driveway of a near-by home, and the run carried their sled across the street.

Perry started down the incline, was not able to stop in time and was carried by the sled into the path of a car going west on Georgian.

The force of the impact threw the boy to the south curb of the street and demolished the sled. Perry suffered a bruised left leg and badly bruised left ankle.

The car, according to police reports, did not stop. The accident was reported Saturday afternoon by Perry Morton, sr.

Pen Inmate Gets 18-Month Term In Federal Prison

Clifford E. Clark, 26, an inmate of the Nebraska state penitentiary, has been sentenced to 18 months in Federal prison by Federal Judge John W. Delehant.

The Dodge county man pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with "transporting a stolen motor vehicle between Sioux City and a point near West Point." His sentence will commence when he is released from the state penitentiary, probably in July.

Clarke was sent to the state reformatory for men in July of 1947 on a charge of breaking and entering. He was transferred to the state penitentiary in February 1949 for incorrigibility.
